Trash: Sunday only trash is completely inadequate	2 - 1
Town Government: not enough room	2 - 5
Town Government: Not very Friendly	2 - 6
Need more than one day per week to dispose of trash	2 - 19
Police often don't come when called after 5.00	2 - 26
Police: don't respond appropriately when indicated (assault at Record's) & over-react when not indicated (High speed chase through Lyme, SWAT team at innocent residents)	2 - 31
Elderly services: Lyme should work more closely with GSCC - help is available Lyme does not access/ally what is available for needy seniors. Source of this statement: Roberta Bevner - Director GSCC      Trash dumping should be available at least one day in addition to Sunday	2 - 36
Trash: Sunday mornings not enough, no curbside, have to purchase garbage bags	2 - 37
School: would like to see more developed afterschool for k-8	2 - 43
Post Pond: current town policy regulating Post Pond water level is inappropriate	2 - 44
Trash/Recycling: 2-1/2 hrs Sunday a.m. is inadequate/wrong day	2 - 45
Police: Coverage is not like it was with Al Por(?) <Additional comment removed>	2 - 48
The road conditions are deteriorating and Highway management is very poor.	2 - 49
Police: <comment removed> Town Govt: need better offices.	2 - 70
Library: seems small - I have not really examined its operation. Town govt: Clerk need more flexible hours	2 - 72
Trash: too regulated for nit-picking reasons.	2 - 74
Police coverage is more than adequate. It will be imp. To have an emergency management plan in place and distributed to residents throughout the town.	2 - 78
Rods: Pot holes!    Trash: Limited hours	2 - 83
Trash: only open on Sunday am. For heathens only!	2 - 84
Fire Dept: Equipment and training is designed for the center of town - they are forgetting the rural areas. Highway Dept: wasting money & energy plowing & sanding when not needed	2 - 87
Minimal childcare and elderly services.. Recycling/Trash - poor hours & expensive.	2 - 93
Roads are narrow and dangerous	2 - 96
Childcare - very limited options. Those that are in Lyme are not of top quality - bordering on poor quality.	2 - 97
Town Clerk: Staff are tops but they need more space.      Trash: need more times/flexibility.	2 - 101
Road Maint.: some roads are dangerous (Preston Hill e.g.) I know resources are tight but some rework in some areas might increase safety.
Trash: Do not like having to buy bags	2 - 102
Trash: should not have to buy specials bags	2 - 104
Post Pond(?) needs improving - must be attractive to all children's activities	2 - 107

I feel like I'm in a technological black hole with no cell phone coverage and no high speed internet access	2 - 109
Post pond has been nasty for years (e. coli)	2 - 116
You could care less about providing aid to the elderly	2 - 117
Cost too much money for what we get in return	2 - 119
If I were less of a recluse my opinions may be more informed	2 - 127
Trash: Sunday dump time is very limited time. Especially recycling	2 - 134
No Elderly services. Trash Disposal poor setup. Clerk's hours.	2 - 142
Green trash bag idea beyond irritating	2 - 143
Zoning - not acceptable -- should not have to be costly and very timely to sell a piece of property. Trash -- having to buy town bags.	2 - 144
Conservation Areas: too much 39%! Roads: reactive maintenance - remove stones & debris before washouts. Stop widening roads with grader. Trash: limited access time on Sunday am	2 - 146
Childcare: not a town govt. service. Trash: dislike the new "town bag" rules -- switched to private pick-up	2 - 147
Police: wrong priority, this is not Harlem. No place for ???? To go if not at home	2 - 148
Trash only on Sunday morning?	2 - 150
Pond Issue (at beaver dam) Water lever has caused property damage, community division and I am sure raised the cost to repair damages. Need more hours at dump.	2 - 151
Elderly- state sys weak. Town size limits capability. Trash bag's fee. System needs review - too costly for fix income and young families	2 - 153
Recycling center needs to be open more than 1 day/week + longer hours	2 - 160
Recycling: No pickup	2 - 165
Low hours for trash/recycle.	2 - 167
Reasons are too obvious to detail (Hopefully they're obvious to town leaders)	2 - 173
Trash disposal should be free. Recycling too cumbersome	2 - 176
all marked need to be improved. Intelligence has missed in terms of administration of each.	2 - 177
No elderly housing/support	2 - 178
Trash: Bag system a joke. Recycling should be open much more often	2 - 181
Childcare is poor. Lyme nursery school + 1 other licensed facility	2 - 182
Roads need a little more care of. Including brush cutting, grading more general maintenance.	2 - 184
Roads: N Thetford Rd. is a disgrace & has been for the past 11 years. There are others where huge potholes frost heaves create hazardous driving.	2 - 185
Trash disposal should be more than 1 day a week	2 - 186
I don't trust the fire department could get to a rural area quickly enough to put out a house fire	2 - 189
Scholl: more after school program for children needed	2 - 192
Road Crew is excellent	2 - 195

Town should take responsibility for North Thetford Road. Negotiate with the state to make a one-time payment to rebuild the road and then it becomes our responsibility	2 - 198
School need library on site in its building, not across the street.	2 - 199
Recycling: What do I do with things the recycle will not take i.e. TV receivers	2 - 204
Would be nice to have more sitters (although not a town concern)	2 - 207
Need some flexibility for disposing trash besides Sun/weekend	2 - 209
Beaver dam is an issue at Post Pond - high water, unsanitary beach, water & lawn	2 - 211
I just bought my home	2 - 216
Not enough access to recycle center. Taxes too high for level of service	2 - 220
There are not enough childcare options for working parents	2 - 222
Trash: Pay as you throw is great , but we should do away with mandatory bags.	2 - 223
Not enough childcare	2 - 225
Recycling & Trash disposal hours are limited - @x per week or open recycling would be great for full-time workers	2 - 228
Schools need higher academic standards	2 - 235
School needs to hold the bar higher - high expectation.	2 - 236
The Lyme Police have not responded nor followed up, in any instance I know of - whether it was called for service or someone I know. This includes an attempted break-in, car accident in front of my house.	2 - 238
This is not a city which could very have Fire Dept facilities/??? As such	2 - 239
Police: called once - took very long time to arrive here.    Trash: 2-1/2hrs on Sun is too few hrs, wrong day.	2 - 245
Elderly service does not	2 - 247
Police Dept. too intrusive for small town - not community minded as past.	2 - 248
Am unsure of elderly services/housing available but assume, as I've heard nothing about them that Lyme's service fall into nil to marginal area.	2 - 249
Town Clerk's offices hardly ever open & available.	2 - 251
Town Offices: Lack of Parking. Transfer Station: Sunday is God's day. The rest of the transfer station is fine.	2 - 255
Recycling/Disposal should be open more hours or different hours. Very difficult to get to church on time.	2 - 260
Give additional day at Transfer Station.	2 - 261

The condition of Chase Beach in mid-June was atrocious and possibly extremely unhealthy for young children, primarily because of the high water level. The beach area had numerous pools of stagnant water, the grass had not been cut all year, the grill was surrounded by standing water and, of course, there was little to no beach. The town ,as a Post Pond abutter, should take more proactive action in lowering the pond level (consistent with CC and State guidelines) well before it becomes a problem. The town road maintenance crew does a good job of regularly inspecting the roads after heavy rains and likewise someone should inspect the pond in early spring and regularly during the summer to ensure the lowest water level allowed in the pond.	2 - 262
Town Govt. is increasingly bureaucratic and distant. The Clerk's office is excellent.	2 - 264
Elderly Services: would be nice to have a town bus or transportation available. Road Maintenance: seems hard to keep roads & bridges in "good" shape. Town office -- too many people, too small a space.	2 - 267
Sunday Dump is a pain. Poor time/day.	2 - 269
Road Maintenance: Frost heaves on N. Thetford Road are terrible. Transfer station should be open twice per week (once mid-week)	2 - 271
Trash/Recycling: Would prefer a weeknight option. Sunday mornings/weekends are family time.	2 - 272
Recycling: Also need a weekday. Sun is many times a "convention center" No respect when busy. Trash: takes 4 to 6 weeks to fill a 15gal bag so freeze garbage - should have a third size, like the co-op bags.	2 - 273
Library has too few books and short hours.	2 - 278
Police: <comment removed> Public transportation is non-existent which is appalling.	2 - 283
Hours of recycling & trash are limited and could be better but this is not crucial.	2 - 285
Police coverage is spotty at some hours	2 - 288
It is ludicrous that, in a family town, the only time to get rid of your garbage or do recycling is a small window on a Sunday morning. This affects everything from Church & Sunday morning family time to weekends away & smelly garbage piling up in the summer! Ridiculous. As far as schools - a better job needs to be done to accommodate all children & all needs & eliminate bullying etc. Too many kids have left the Lyme school for negative reasons.	2 - 292
1: Childcare -- not sure who does childcare. 2: Post Pond -- was once drier and beautiful. Many women (& men) put energy in to making a real beach at Post Pond. 3: Town Govt -- in a basement? 4: Trash disposal -- More/other days offered. Ridiculous when no other hours offered around Christmas.	2 - 294
Trash: Too restrictive in hours open and the manner it is run.	2 - 295
The new trash disposal system is worse than the previous one.	2 - 296
Trash: One day during the week (1-4hr) would help for trash/recycle. Library: I don't like using the library when school children are present. I have a Hanover library card.	2 - 301
Insufficient or no elderly housing/transport	2 - 302
Post Pond: Water level too high, beach is no longer usable. Recycling & trash system constitutes extra tax. Trash bags are sometimes not available at Country store. The cost of trash bags a burden on those with fixed incomes.	2 - 310
Trash: I don't like the green garbage bags & would like additional dump hours. Post Pond: the beaver situation at the pond is ridiculous! People should have more lights in this town than beavers.	2 - 311

We should have a senior center	2 - 313
Trash: rated 3 for recycling and trash due to limited hours service is provided. Town office rated 3 because of limited space for storage of records which are constantly stored above and around the employees. As a result employees are exposed to potential injury if any of the overloaded storage units were to fail. Employees do not have adequate workspace.	2 - 314
Roads: need to let elected agent maintain roads - improve culverts and bridges - guardrails	2 - 315
Trash: need more than one day for trash disposal possibly weekday -evening hours. Town offices need to be more accessible to public. I.e. open to the public longer.	2 - 316
Police: <comment removed>	2 - 317
Trash: I don't feel that we should have to buy bags and pay for trash removal, that is what we pay taxes to the town for.	2 - 318
Expand library into a community center/coffee house, after town offices move.	2 - 321
New residents: have no experience to rate fairly	2 - 326
School: After school programs could be better. Trash: transfer Station hours are too restrictive.	2 - 329
Trash: costly!	2 - 334
Town offices too small - give credit to the folks who have to work under those conditions.	2 - 338
Childcare: limited. Trash disposal (should be) 2x week	2 - 341
Hours for town clerk not adequate - perhaps one could work 12-8 or 11-7 (for people after work)	3 - 1
no assisted living for elderly	3 - 2
Trash: limited hours	3 - 3
It would be nice to have transfer station open one weekday afternoon/evening	3 - 4
Trash: much improved congratulations	3 - 5
No elderly care/ no senior citizens center. All for youth & yuppies from south of NH	3 - 8
Lyme does very well. There are not enough elderly services anywhere in the USA. Would like to see trash/recycling available more than 1 day per week. One weekday as well as 1 weekend day would be a great improvement.	3 - 10
Trash: would be nice to have another day. It is getting too expensive/LCS runs out of tickets & bags often	3 - 12
We're new property owners	3 - 16
Garbage: not enough collection time - no notice of unavailability or policy on holidays - no alternatives - it's gotten worse despite paying for the bags.	3 - 19
Transfer station needs more hours and days. Town clerk needs more days.	3 - 20
Need more forever protected open space.	4 - 8
childcare that is priced for a moderate income people	4 - 9
road repair is spotty and in some places poor; trash disposal and recycling difficult	4 - 12
Too many people, not enough hours.	4 - 14
Have not kept up on routine road maintenance. Would be helpful to have access to trash disposal/recycling for more than three hours per week.	4 - 16

Finally, the problem is addressed, also the town needs a professional advisor for improving roads on a cost/benefit basis!	4 - 22
transfer station needs to be better landscaped/made more aesthetically pleasing or moved.	4 - 25
Need town offices open at least one evening, ex. 4:30 - 6:00 pm.	4 - 27
Post Pond needs new recreation/swimming equipment and boat launch needs to be cleaned up.	4 - 29
Hours of operation	4 - 31
Post Pond is wonderful, but suffering recently especially with respect to flooding/beaver dam issue.	4 - 33
The town government needs a backbone.	4 - 34

Town Govt: employees OK, site poor	4 - 38
Town govt hours and transfer station hours are rather limited.	4 - 39
Trash disposal and zoning are too restrictive.	4 - 42
Not enough trash drop-off flexibility. Zoning way too restrictive, especially Hillside/Ridgeline.	4 - 53
People should not be in such a hurry through town around common.	4 - 59
Why do we need our own police force? The town trash is wholly inadequate.	4 - 67
Police - too much	4 - 68
Lack of town beach.	4 - 73
Ambulance/FAST: Need better, faster coverage	4 - 74
Elderly: Nee more services
Need road work; more area and parking	4 - 75
Plowing Dorchester Road in winter, though I'm told that's State maintained--very poor job.	4 - 76
Planning Board -- too cumbersome.	4 - 80
Transfer Station -- recycling not comprehensive enough.
North Thetford Road is awful. Needs major work. Resolve dispute between state and town.	4 - 81
Probably "bite the bullet" and take it over. Trash disposal is difficult for larger items.
Police: <comment removed> Police never around when needed; trash is a joke, why do we keep paying?	4 - 84
Questionable coverage - Sunday dump not desirable given two officers and vehicles	4 - 85
Trash - Need a day mid-week	4 - 89
trash disposal - needs to have broader hours.	4 - 90
Childcare: too high of prices, can't afford	4 - 93
Schools: more funding for sports
There is no childcare for the working mom and dad.	4 - 96

Transfer Station - There should be an alternate trash & recycling time other than church time on Sunday.	4 - 104
Town Offices - More open time.
Transfer Station & Hazardous Waste: limited availability, inconvenient	4 - 107
Police: feels confrontational for a small town
Within Lyme, most senior services are family provided, not provided by the town as a "service."	4 - 109
Are not able to contact Lyme Police directly--all calls forwarded through Hanover.	4 - 111
Road Maintenance is suffering greatly; no routine upkeep is being done, i.e. ditch cleaning of trees and debris, patching bad sealing of tarred roads.
Police is adequate, but often "over the top" for a small rural community. They act like we're in a city.	4 - 112
Don't know enough to rate Childcare and Elderly Services--They seem to be OK, especially now that we have a Health Ministry. Those Guys have also been a tremendous voluntary asset.	4 - 113
Police services - slow response at night	4 - 114
Roads - too slow to fix.
Trash - only on Sundays.
Limited after-school options.	4 - 118
Recycling and trash are not well-advertised and not easy enough to encourage use.	4 - 120
Police: <comment removed> Elderly services are few and mostly private (churches).	4 - 122
Maintenance of North Thetford Road in winter is bad. I know it's a State road, but Lyme people suffer.	4 - 128
Should be better before- and after-school options.	4 - 129
Not visible enough. (not clear what referencing.)	4 - 132
Add additional times for trash disposal.	4 - 134
recreation facilities at the pond need an upgrade. Library is too small and transfer station needs additional hours.	4 - 135
New books; selection is poor at library.	4 - 137
Library needs to be expanded.	4 - 141
Town Clerk's Office - Need more hours, can't make it during present open hours. <comment removed> Trash & Recycling - Great except restricted times. Road maintenance - roads in terrible condition by frost heaves, need better drainage or more frequent paving.	4 - 142
Have never needed fire or ambulance at my house, but unsure they would arrive on time (River Road).	4 - 144
I'd like more child care choices.	4 - 147
I'd like a wider variety of recyclables, e.g. aseptic packaging.
Trash Disposal - one day a week for a minimal number of hours is inadequate for a town this size.	4 - 148
Local police are never there when you need them.	4 - 151
Need more help for the elderly.	4 - 152
Town office needs more hours opened.

As far as I know, all elderly services are from private groups.	4 - 154
Childcare - Need full day daycare until 5:00.	4 - 155
Conservation - Need more Trash - should have pick-up or more hours.
transfer station - would like to be open more often.	4 - 156
Town Clerk: friendliness in office could improve; current 8-2ish hours 3 days a week are impossible for people in certain jobs.	4 - 157
Trash/Recycling: Pick up option would be nice or extended hours, or some option other than Sunday mornings (say Wednesday evenings) would be great. Also, included trash fees in the past were great!
Transfer Station: <comment removed>	4 - 166
Police - Too much policing! Cut back!	4 - 168
Roads - We should pave more, e.g. 1/2 mile a year, see 5A.
I would never leave my child in the care of anyone in Lyme.	4 - 170
Elderly services are nonexistent.
The road I live on is a joke.
The school is run by the rich and bullying is allowed.
Trash - Bags should be bio-degradable.	4 - 174
Trash - place to drop trash mid-week	4 - 178
Library - too small	4 - 181
No one cares about the elderly!	4 - 182
Town Government: Excellent people, space inadequate.	4 - 195
The police department is too large and too expensive.	4 - 199
[Post Pond??] The buildings and tower are really ugly--particularly the picnic shelter. We need more trees.	4 - 200
Carole tries to be helpful. Selectboard non-existent to public other than Wed. 8 am.	4 - 206
ZBA - too liberal with no follow-up.
Chase Beach - swimming area needs upgrades particularly if population increases	4 - 208
Many roads in town are a source of sedimentation of our streams, rivers, and lakes due to inadequate water control measures. May of the ditches and culverts empty directly into streams and brooks.	4 - 209
Police - There is no attempt to control the speed of trucks and cars.	4 - 210
Transfer Station - The fact that the dump is open 1 day a week for 2-1/2 hours is appalling, especially despite the huge property taxes we pay.	4 - 211
Town government/clerk's office could be larger.	4 - 213
Trash - I agree with all the new policies, but the limited hours of Sunday morning only are too limited!! How about a mid-week afternoon?	4 - 216
Need trash more than once/week; road could be better!	4 - 217
Recycling could be open more hours.	4 - 218
Elderly - NH should have more care/help available for elderly/handicapped.	4 - 222

There are no services I know of. The Chief of Police should live in town. Too many mistakes, too much talk with no action.	4 - 226
No elderly housing!	4 - 228
Roads - Road drainage/excessive salt, property damage	4 - 229
Depends on who you are regarding getting permits through zoning.	4 - 230
Never around when you need them.	4 - 231
Recreation - Need more fields for soccer, etc.	4 - 233
Roads - Grafton Turnpike not maintained often enough.	4 - 234
Ask the right question. All services are excessive!	4 - 235
Trash - need trash more than once a week/or on a non-weekend day.	4 - 236
Town Govt - Town Clerk's hours not for the 8-5 working population; now use out of town trash collector.	4 - 238
Elderly - population aging with no family near for many; not enough services to care for them in home/community.	4 - 241
Trash - Need two days.	4 - 244
Trash - need two days/week	4 - 245
School is complacent	4 - 247
Trash - inconvenient
Rec. Area - needs refurbishing
School - no all-day Kindergarten; no after-school	4 - 248
Elderly - no elder care respite
Elderly - need more ways to stay in Lyme	4 - 249
Police - too officious, not friendly
Trash - The dump is much too restrictive, too many rules, too adversarial--too many for example, kids not allowed in fenced-in area, come on! We need to let people take stuff out of the dumpsters and retrieve treasures. Don't charge to deposit furniture, etc.	4 - 253
Trash & Recycling - Need a weekday time; program excellent, time inadequate; screening w/trees and plants to screen off those areas on High St. terribly inadequate	4 - 256
Recycling times do not fit into a modern schedule.	4 - 258
Trash - having trash/recycling open more than 2-1/2 hours on a Sunday morning would be nice.	4 - 265
Recycling should be open 2-3 times a week.	4 - 267
Trash - limited time could result in several weeks without access if need to travel on weekends.	4 - 268
Trash - Can't take stuff from dump--the ultimate recycling	4 - 276
Trash - Sunday is not the best day to do the trash/recycling--a different or additional day would be more helpful.	4 - 284
Have not had to use ambulance/fire dept., but assume they'd be good.	4 - 285
Childcare for people who work full-time jobs is non-existent in Lyme.
Trash - disposal system is good, but we need a mid-week opportunity as well as Sunday.

Post Pond - Excellent facility but we need to take care of beaver dam problem so it is not out of hand as it has been the last two years.
Transfer Station: <comment removed>	4 - 287
Trash - I wish trash disposal was not on Sunday mornings!!	4 - 288
Child care - When my child was younger--it was difficult to find good, consistent child care if she was not "born" into that day care.
Roads - Ditches too deep, trees leaning in roads.	4 - 293

Recycling - Need more plastics, i.e. #5	4 - 310
Would like more "dump" hours; would like to see a "dump store" where items can be left to be recycled to others.	4 - 312
Trash - Disagree with trash purchase requirement	4 - 315
Elderly Housing - Not aware of any affordable housing for elderly with fixed incomes
Trash - But it would be nice to have dump open one day besides Sunday. It's hard to make it to the dump AND church.	4 - 319
Trash - Hours for trash...still OK	4 - 325
Police - lack of kindness in demeanor/manner;	4 - 327
Town Offices - not forward thinking
Police: <comment removed>	4 - 330
Roads - have deteriorated	4 - 331
Trash - too inconvenient, time slot too small
Trash - disposal marked low because open only 1 day a week	4 - 333
Police - spending too much on services	4 - 337
Town Govt - Building permit process is a "3"-inadequate. There must be a better way to improve the process. <comment removed> Town needs a computer generated approval process that relies less on planning board and ZBA hearings, special exceptions, waivers, etc. Town Selectboard should appoint an applicant-friendly ombudsman to facilitate this process.	4 - 340
Police - off hour service ends up being the State police; can't you page the Lyme police?	4 - 341
Childcare/preschool - options need to be affordable for all income levels.	4 - 342
Roads - conditions have been inconsistent recently; erosion and potholes seem to be more of a problem (could just be a factor of all the rain.)

Fire Station & Police Station should be one building. We have such a fabulous town garage area now it would be nice (again sounds easy) to redo the fire station/police station. Keep everything in the same building so that you only have one new building. I understand that some people would like to see two different buildings so would cost be an issue here? People also need to learn to compromise and understand that they cannot always get what they want. I also think the town offices need new space. The people who work in that building seem so cramped and tight for space. It appears unorganized and messy because of the lack of room and storage. I would love to see a building that has a separate room for the files, meeting room that was bigger and a bit more private, and more space for all of the individuals that work there everyday, parking is another issue it would be great to be in a new space that had better parking. If the town offices do end up in a new space this would allow our library to expand downstairs. Betsy has done such an amazing job with the help of volunteers I would love to see the library expand Lyme is a paradise. However, we should encourage 1) Smart growth, 2) walking/biking to work/shopping & work at home by updating the village area with 1) underground power lines, 2) sidewalks, 3) encourage more "everyday" commercial growth & residential space in town & 4) construct a path to Post Pond. We also need to regain Chase Beach from the beavers - it's unusable in its current state (underwater). I would also like to see the intersection of Rt10 & E Thetford Rd reconfigured to make it safe for traffic & pedestrians.

Small rural community. Close-knit, not necessarily open to new-comers. Wholesome place to raise children, highly values education. Beautiful countryside with wildlife and forests as an integral part of daily living -- in other words you don't have to go to the zoo to see native animals. A good place for nature lovers. I like the place itself the most.

Lyme is a small town with rural roots and a strong sense of its history and strong community values. Although I am not and never have been a "joiner" I feel that neighbors (the townsfolk) are very willing to help those in need & to improve life in the town.

Lyme is great but zoning is much too destructive. I want my children to be able to live here and build on land I own. 5-10 acres is too restrictive. There are plenty of deer yards & habitat for wildlife. Steep slopes should not be an issue. The technology is there to build on slopes - let them build.

Rural but near to employment centers - enough removed to have its own character apart from Hanover/Leb. Also a terrific mix of people @ various age, educational and income levels: a sense that we're all in it together. Too pricey for low- and fixed-income though, which worries me as some long-term and older residents are having a hard time of it. We're lucky to be able to afford to live here, though just barely. Lyme has to work hard ( and mostly does) to maintain a balance of services and support we can afford. A very homey place. Q3 Rate of growth is great if you're wealthy. Moderate Income cannot live here. Q6 Encourage development of housing for low to moderate income level elderly people. Lyme is a very wealthy town with very big pockets for expenses. Lyme caters to the wealthy and frowns on the middle income and low income people. In the past 15 years Lyme has become very snobby. Lower income children in Lyme's public school system are outcasts. I know of several families with moderate income that have had to sell their homes and properties that have been owned by long term residents because of the taxes. It's cheaper to live in Thetford or even Hanover. We plan on moving in the next 3 years also.

Lyme was my home from the date of my birth until I was 20 years old and enlisted in the army in WWII. I had a happy childhood and have fond memories of my family, school and friends. Growing up on a farm gave me a solid foundation in work ethics, responsibility and discipline. The pleasure of hiking, fishing and exploring the woods, brooks and ponds has never faded from my memory at 84 years of age. I still remember Lyme as a wonderful time to grow up in. Change is inevitable over the years but I think Lyme is still a beautiful place.

2 - 190

2 - 191

I love the town of Lyme, it has turned out to be a warm community. I feel the biggest challenge Lyme faces is how to integrate successfully living to middle or upper middle class citizens. I feel there is a little too much focus on those that are in the over 6 figure income group, and not enough encouragement for working class. Lyme is quickly becoming a town of "Haves vs. Have nots", which only reflects a lack of balance.

I think there are too many people making the rules up as they go along. I think families and property owners should have the right to do what they want with their land. 2 - 213

Lyme has been my home for almost sixty-five years and I have seen a number of changes over the years - Lyme for the most part has lost its neighborly feeling - due, in part to the fast pace of living if today. Gone are the days when a farmer could drive his herd of cows down Route 10 twice a day. Gone are the days when you could get out of your driveway without waiting five minutes for the cars to go by, to walk on any of the paved roads at two in the afternoon without dozens of cars whizzing past you.

Lyme is a town with a unique community spirit. It is also a diverse town with many original residents as well as new - both retirees and new families. It is small enough that it has been able to retain this community spirit & integrate newcomers in to it. The character of the town is different and, in my opinion, better than Norwich, Hanover or Lebanon yet it is close enough in residents to benefit from the cultural, recreational & shopping opportunities.

It's a bedroom community for employment in Hanover and Lebanon but it has maintained its rural character and I hope it continues to.

2 - 271

A down-to-earth, educated rural town with a strong sense of community. A place of beauty and character. A town with more diversity (at least on the economic and educational spectrum, if not racial) than many surrounding towns.

Physically, Lyme is a quaint and beautiful town, with a nice mix of agricultural and wooded land, as well as attractive small-town-New-England vernacular architecture. Socio-economically it seems to have a fairly good mix, but I worry about the decline of the small farms. Culturally and commercially Lyme is quiet, which we like, but we don't want it to be "dead".

Lyme is both a rural town and a part of a major educational and medical center. It is a quintessential New England village.

2 - 279

A lovely old New England town that is losing its roots. Farming almost gone. Becoming a bedroom town for Hanover. Fortunately, good planning & zoning was enacted in time to prevent a major loss to the town's character but new residents seem to want to institute changes that will introduce the very problems that they moved away from. The best way to keep the older residents is to keep their taxes down. The more services that are demanded, the higher the taxes and the continual loss of the town's character. The planning & zoning boards have been doing a very good job in "holding back the flood".

2 - 292

Lyme is a fabulous place to live in many ways - it is beautiful, friendly & safe for the most part. The outdoors are a part of life here & there is much to do. It can be difficult in other ways however - when the small school, small classes, work for you - it's great but when it doesn't it can be pretty awful. The town/school need to make greater effort to ensure that it works for every child & that every child can get what they need & succeed academically and socially. Being a small town, I think there are lots of ways the town & schools could make newcomers feel more welcome & readily make this their home. A challenge is to be open & welcoming & yet keep the rural integrity & beauty intact.

2 - 296

Comments relating to Specific Questions: 3 -- It's not the rate of growth , it's the nature of growth. For example, if you compare the rise in Lyme's general population between the 1950 and 2000 censuses with the rise in population at the Lyme grade school for the same period - from 156 in 1951 to 171 in 2001 - it's clear that our population profile is more distorted away from young working families than it has been at any time in the town's history - and the town's policies must be regards as at least partially responsible for that. 12 -- There is a world of difference between "encourage" and "provide facilities for". If some fellows want to start a theater company and put on summer stock, I'm all for it and I look forward to buying tickets. If the town government wants to build an arts center run by a Selectmen-appointed Lyme Arts Commission, nuts to that. They're two entirely different options. 14 -- What's "farmland"? I support the continuation of working farms in Lyme. If it ceases to be a working farm, I don't see the point of preserving the land as some piece of pseudo-pasture. Unless you're planning on combining the government arts facilities in Question 12 with the preserved farmland in Question 14 and hiring unemployed Equity members to play gnarled old Yankees and stand around the field with oxen all day long, preserving "farmland" once the farm has gone is a waste of time. 22 -- If you're going to do a citizen profile, do one. But don't introduce one solitary question on the subject. It's grossly unprofessional. 26 -- I think this survey sidesteps the real challenge facing Lyme, which is not growth but the remorseless supplanting of one population by another. If a town is simply its hills and ponds and the 1790 Capes and Colonials, then your survey is fine. But if a town is also the accumulated human capital and inheritance of the people who built this community, then Lyme is in serious trouble. Demography explains 90 per cent of everything - from why France didn't participate in the Iraq war (30% of the country's under-20 population is Muslim) to why Vladivostok will be back to its Chinese name of Haishenwei in another couple of decades (Russia's east is depopulating and China's isn't) to why Lyme doesn't seem quite such a friendly characterful small town as it once did. I miss the mix of people this place used to have, and I think others will miss it too, even if they don't yet realize it. Lyme is well on the way to becoming a bland antiseptic bedroom community/retirement community. I qualify as rich (according to the IRS) but that doesn't mean it's to my advantage to be in a town working people can't afford to live in. It's no consolation to this is such a swank burg if it means when I need a plumber in a hurry, he has to come from 20 miles away. It should be a priority of town government to maintain a stable mixed-income population in Lyme and to prevent its descent into a community of wealthy retirees and transient commuters who happen to be working in the Hanover/Lebanon area for a couple of years. I favor tax, zoning and planning policies that cease driving Lyme natives out of this community -- as town-funded Internet access and arts centers will do to yet more widows and spinsters. It's easy to wreck a town bit by bit, one small change by another, and that's what's happened to Lyme in the years I've been here.

2 - 325

Lyme is a delightful small town -- combining the best of Hanover DHMC bedroom community with traditional forest farmland. It needs more local retail and services as the price of gas goes up. Us older folk want more services closer to home.

We are seasonal owners in Lyme and have only been visiting off and on for two years. We come from an extremely congested area where there is hardly any sense of community and no "natural" beauty. Most of the day is spent in traffic, so... When we come to Lyme it has become our slice of heaven! Lyme to us is the Norman Rockwell postcard, it has the quaintness, natural beauty and sereness we long for. We most love the "timeless" look of Lyme, as well as the warm welcome we receive from residents every time we visit. We don't think it would be fair to comment on the town's challenges, as we aren't aware of the issues to do so.

2 - 339

I would describe Lyme as a very pleasant, caring community of between 1500 & 2000 people who enjoy the rural character of the town. Although most of the still working people have jobs in Hanover, Lebanon or White River, Lyme does not have the anonymous character of many bedroom towns. Flatlanders and longtime local people seem to get along and cooperate pretty well, although the former sometimes provide a source of amusement of the latter.

Lyme is close to the ideal community because it: - is small with wonderful community-wide traditions. - has an excellent school in the center of town. - has a lot of green space; common, woods, nature areas, pond. - has active residents, like at the LCC, who work hard to make this a caring, responsive place to live. - is close to the cultural offerings of Hanover/Dartmouth and close to highways to get to the airport, Boston and NYC.

It is a town with too few people who are from here originally. They have either chosen to leave or were driven out by higher taxes and a sense of discouragement. Q26a: How would you describe Lyme?

Lyme is a small rural community in a special place in New Hampshire. In the Upper Valley every town is very different, depending upon a number of factors. In Lyme's case, it is the town just north of Hanover which puts it in proximity to Dartmouth College and the Hospital; being in the Upper Valley (as opposed to in the southern part of the State), Lyme had time to anticipate the pressures of development and the enactment of strict zoning laws have ensured that the very thing that made Lyme special would not be the first to be destroyed - the historic town center and the open land and forests. Lyme is still a very mixed community, although a lot has changed in the last twenty to thirty years. It amazes me that there are still small farms and I hope that can somehow continue. Although Lyme is no longer an 18th century agrarian community, a lot of the positive aspects of that time, a lot of the values, are still very much with us and make Lyme one of the best towns to live in in this whole area.

Lyme is distinguished by the deliberate and uncommon success of its citizens in the preservation of its rural character and beauty. Through consensus, the people of Lyme have placed greater value on the conservation of agricultural and forest land than on the encouragement of commercial and residential development. As a result, the people of Lyme have enjoyed the advantages and conveniences of the towns to the south without suffering their greater density and loss of rural character.

As the "village" that raised my child - and well - into a caring, conscious, nature-loving good human being. (I helped)

3 - 20

I think Lyme is a great town, and I absolutely love to live here. As much as we the people define Lyme, I think Lyme defines the residents. I grew up in a very small town with most of those "small town Americana" stereotypes that you can see in Lyme (kids playing a pickup baseball game, kids riding bikes down the small side streets, neighbors having a bbq while kids play, kids walking down the street with fishing rods to go fish the local stream - all that was wonderful for me). For me a big part of it is about the kids and I couldn't imagine raising them anywhere else. Lyme is a great town, with mostly great people. By definition, I think Lyme is a town that is mostly defined by the vast amount of tradition and history. Lyme is a family that has made a community, where even new residents can, if they choose, fit right into that big family. I think the things that define Lyme best are the small town community events we have and sponsor. Things such as the concerts on the common, the Independence day celebration, Lyme Summer Suppers and even the huge outpouring of support at Nichols Hardware last day of business. When I think of small town Lyme, I think of the ability to go to the post office at the hardware store, and on the way out buy some nails, while my kids eat a snack at the café and I can chat with other patrons. I travel a lot for business and when I get asked "where are you from" the above description is always the story I tell.... And it's sad to me that the whole picture has recently changed with Nichols going out of business.

Most of them want to preserve some of the same things that I do, like woodland and wetland and public access to the wild areas.

Lyme is a small, rural community that has a strong sense of community, inclusiveness, history, and respect for traditions. Although it benefits from its proximity to Dartmouth College and Dartmouth Hitchcock Medical Center, it has maintained its own identity. Furthermore, there is strong commitment to neighbors helping neighbors.

A small town of great beauty, preserved in physical and atmospheric tone from a time gone by. There simply aren't villages left anywhere that are like it. The fact that there are newspapers, but no major chain stores, no Dunkin Donuts or Exxon Mobil is something I value very highly.

Quiet, upper class--it is changing from a farming/local community to one in which wealthy outsiders are moving in and changing the zoning laws to make it difficult for average and low income people to live here.

4 - 191

Nice place to raise your family, beautiful setting, good schools

---

4 - 192

I would describe Lyme as idyllic.

A particularly attractive small New England town almost uniquely endowed with recreational opportunities and possessing a well-defined town center that provides a location for a number of essential commercial services and our school library and town offices. Lyme's location in close proximity to Dartmouth has made it especially attractive to both Dartmouth faculty and alumni, and its housing market reflects the high number of working professionals and financially successful retirees who desire to live here.

Lyme is a small diverse community with the natural boundaries of our mountain/recreation area to the east and the Connecticut River to the west. We do not have endless land for development because of this, and we are lucky to have had a zoning ordinance in place for so long. Our growth has been slow and our broad spectrum of newcomers has been easily assimilated into our social fabric (and our services).

Lyme is a friendly, modern small town.

4 - 205

I have seen Lyme gradually change from a small New England town to a bedroom/retirement community. Unfortunately, I think this is inevitable given its proximity to Hanover. Also, it is inevitable that property values in Lyme will continue to be astronomical given the wealth of the people who want to live in Lyme. Although it would be ideal if Lyme could have a varied mix of people forever, realistically, I think lower income folks will gradually be pushed out. This is one of the challenges Lyme will face. One solution might be to cluster less expensive housing on non-agricultural land.

A two- or three-tiered community in both finances and courtesy.

4 - 207

Lyme is a small, rural community with bedroom community aspects given its proximity to Hanover/Lebanon. In the almost two decades I have lived here, development in the form of mostly single-family homes has been modest but steady. Overall, with the exception of some ridgeline houses, the town has managed to retain its "country charm."

What attracted us to Lyme was its scenic beauty and open space-and its commitment to preserving its open space and its rural character/heritage. Lyme is family friendly with good outdoor recreation and a good school.

A wonderful community that is showing the potential of becoming like Norwich (except of course they have a dump day 2x a week...) a precious Hanover bedroom community.

4 - 212

Lyme is a small New England "town" comprised of two villages in a very favorable location. Lyme has beauty of every kind - architectural, mountain views, river front, fields, and forests. One feels in Lyme a quite strong sense of community. Lyme's citizens are proud of their beautiful community and are largely willing to work together to keep it that way. The sense of community is fostered in part by the fact that all Lyme residents share the same difficult natural conditions - hard winters, long distances, steep terrain, mud season (!). In the face of these common hardships, the people of Lyme understand, and sympathize with, and help each other. Beauty and community are Lyme's greatest strengths.

As a very beautiful town, with lots of local scenic character which is wonderful, but it has become a bit of an exclusive community where land is being bought up by land trusts and individuals, and has become a community where residents move in and effectively close the door on middle and low income families moving in behind them. If the money to buy up land by land trusts were available to purchase land to develop low income housing, the community would be more diversified, rather than driving the low income families away.

A nice, peaceful community. It has swung away from the good ole town it once was. There are a lot of big money people that have moved in over the years. This has caused the town to swing away from the small town living I once enjoyed growing up in. It is so expensive to live here now, that I can't afford to settle down like I would like to. ---

4 - 285

Lyme is a wonderful community in a beautiful spot. I most appreciate the sense of community--suppers, Halloween, Christmas pageant and Lyme Center visits from Santa, parades, July 4th, skiway, trails. Love the pond and town green and skiway. The school is fantastic, well maintained buildings, excellent staff. It's great that some low/average income people can still live in Lyme--some old timers, etc. But new teachers and town staff must be finding it nearly impossible to find affordable housing. I want to maintain a mix of people/professions, incomes, etc. in Lyme.

Lyme has been unfortunate to be adjacent to a very fast growing area. But, the Town has retained its earlier character better than most communities by having excellent planning regulations, and dedicated staff and volunteers to implement them. The town no longer has the rural character it did 40 years ago, but it still is a friendly place where people are willing to help you. It is one of the few towns in this part of New Hampshire where the toughest battles can be fought before and at Town Meeting, and people do come together afterward. Having a village where one can walk to the post office, school, town offices, country store, and library leads to meeting and chatting with other members of the town. This is a really important to keeping a cohesive community.

Lyme is a "best kept secret" sort of place here in the Upper Valley. Quiet, slow-paced, inclusive, thoughtful--I think of the recent conversations about zoning and accessibility for a wide range of socio-economic levels in Lyme and than the stars I don't live in Norwich. I think Lyme is taking deliberate steps to ensure we don't become an enclave of the wealthy. Lyme is small town, community oriented. It's hard to feel connected in Lyme for some without ties (children, parents) to Lyme, and there are some customs that can make people feel left out (like giving directions that include references to who lived there before - "turn left at the old Smith place" - I don't know always where people are talking about!) but overall I think Lyme tries for inclusion (Good example: the Lyme Listserve)

Q26a: How would you describe Lyme?

4 - 349

Lyme has many positive attributes as a place to live. It has abundant scenic beauty, extensive tracts of undeveloped land that will remain forever wild thanks to aggressive conservation efforts and a low population that helps it maintain a small town character. Its proximity of Dartmouth College and its own fine library provide plenty of possibilities for learning and cultural activity, and state of the art medical care is available from DHMC. The Connecticut River, Dartmouth Skiway and the town's own system of hiking trails provide numerous opportunities for recreation with many more in the surrounding region. It also brings together an interesting mix of people from different socio-economic backgrounds that include longtime residents and newcomers, farmers and professionals, young families and retirees. In these respects it offers the best of two worlds--rural character and openness mixed with attributes one might associate with a more urban environment.

Lyme is a bucolic hamlet nestled in the Upper Valley. It is a jewel. Its small population and sparse development was an instant attraction to me when I moved here in the mid 1980s. I was struck by its quintessential New England feeling. It is a town of uncommon beauty, with large tracts of farmland and the quiet, serene magnificence of the Connecticut River Valley. When I first came here, Lyme was a pleasant, modest village whose residents were from various economic backgrounds. The townspeople consisted of natives whose families have been here all their lives, as well as recent transplants from various backgrounds. The New England ethic was apparent; hard working, proud and friendly people. Over time, the balance has changed whereby more professional and economically affluent people have moved into town creating increased development of mostly higher-end homes. The balance has shifted.

Lyme is a small, well-to-do community with a mix of "native" and "implant" people. We have a lot of retired folks who, along with those still working, contribute a great wealth of knowledge and skill to the town. It's a beautiful town and one which is accepting of most diverse styles of living, with the proviso that "you don't try to change me." It's a town where you can walk outside after dark and feel safe; where the kids can hang out on the common or at the pond; where you greet everyone even if you don't know their name.

Love how homey and friendly it is. Small means that we can all get to know each other, the discourse is usually civil when we disagree, and people aren't afraid to participate with their opinions. The sense of calm and happiness I feel when I pull in my driveway, The fact that I can cross-country ski and mountain bike right out of my front door; that tennis courts are here; that it's close to most things you need but seemingly far away.

The rural character and recreational opportunities. The town's family-friendly nature. The feeling of living out in the country, yet within easy reach of the "cultural opportunities" in Hanover. Note: There should also be a question "what do you like least about living in Lyme?" My answer would be having to drive all the way to Hanover or Bradford to go to a decent, family-orientated restaurant. Why can't Lyme attract a nice little café (other than the lunch counter)? Perhaps this would be a good use for at least part of the Nichols building. Or perhaps one of the tow inns could take this on and operate it independently of their lodging business, so that the hours would not be so abnormal (I never know when the Alden Inn is open for food)

The strong sense of community and th4e sense that Lyme is not (not yet at least) just a bedroom community for the Hanover/Dartmouth/DHMC community. I feel like Lyme is a town with its own identity, which I can't really say for Norwich, for example.

Small community, great outdoor life. Why do I like living here? I love that the road crew does such an amazing job on our roads, I love the fact that officer Sean is always seen and heard the children have respect for him and they know he means business... It would be nice to see the other officers in town just as much. I always feel I live in La La Land here. I have everything at my fingertips! Hiking, biking, skiing, skating and pretty much other outdoor activity I can think of. I love the fact that everybody knows my children so that I can tell them to watch out because you never know who is watching. The people we have here are all varieties how lucky are we to have authors, illustrators, painters, a bear man, fireworks, pumpkin festival, the Lyme common, may pole celebration and swimming lessons at our own pond! I can't say there is one thing only that I like best about this town it's a little bit of everything.

What I like best about Lyme is the rural character with the small villages - not a lot of traffic and crime, it is fairly peaceful, and the people are generally normal and decent (always a few exceptions, but it makes life interesting I guess). I like being able to be involved in town government and to really have a say in what happens. I like living out in the countryside and yet we are so close to Hanover and the resources that only a college town can provide (restaurants, shops, movie theaters etc) as well as Lebanon & WRJ. Route 89 gets us right down to the Seacoast or to Boston in a reasonable time, and yet we are insulated somewhat from the traffic, congestion, billboards and strip malls of the southern parts of the State.

What I like most about living in Lyme is that it is beautiful and quiet without being remote.

Q26b: What do you like best about living in Lyme?

3 - 20

The best parts of Lyme are the small things in life. Like my children being able to run around the yard in the rain in nothing but their underwear, or the ability to walk up a dirt road with my family and dogs - or just before bedtime to go outside on my deck, look at the stars, and pee from my porch if I want. I love a small town. I like the safety of going to the Lyme Country Store and leaving the keys in my ignition, or not even owning keys to my house because we never lock it. When we go to Chase Beach we leave the car in the parking lot with the hatchback wide open. I can have my kids walk to the green after school because I know it's safe for them to do that. A small town allows all of that. My two favorite things in Lyme are Chase Beach and our Independence Day Celebration. Not to downplay my house, land, neighbors - all those are very important. But as long as we keep my two favorite this and expand on them, Lyme will be forever great! I love to go to Chase Beach and the ability to have picnic dinners with my family and if needed, share the last available table with another family - both families completely welcome to do so. You can't do that comfortably everywhere - including places as close as Hanover. When we talk about Chase Beach with friends in neighboring towns, they are all jealous that they don't have something like that. They all comment how they wish they did. Let's not ever lose that - it's worth its weight in Gold! The small town community events are very high on my list. As I said, the Independence day celebration is my favorite. It just makes me think of an old movie that shows a whole town getting together for a bbq. I love it. Also, Concert on the Common, the Pumpkin Festival (what other town can pull that off!) How about the Bargain Barn? It's small town Americana - and that's Lyme. People from far away would come to Loch Lyme Lodge for a vacation so they could swim at Post Pond, walk their dogs through the woods and just go up to the Lyme Country Store for an ice cream... I feel I live in someone else's dream vacation - and I can do it every day. It's Paradise...

But their presence (new people) has increased the values so that the locals often cannot afford to stay in or return to their home town. I don't think there's an answer or alternative to this realistically. The demographics have shifted.

What I like best about living in Lyme: the woods behind our house, privacy of the country, also the Town is beautiful--The Pinnacle, Pout & Trout Ponds.

The issues of affordable housing is huge all over the upper valley. Where I live (because it was one of the least expensive options in rural upper valley when I arrived) has now become worth so much that my children could not buy it or one like it.

Town government management - Time for a town manager - wasting huge amounts of money on operations unnecessarily because there is inadequate supervision & the people in charge don't know all there is to know about certain aspects of town needs and they either don't have the time to learn it or can't be bothered. Also need to address the liability issues within town employees/elected officials. If this is not addressed some, one way or another the town will be at risk for legal action or big money paid out in worker compensation costs.

2 - 269

I think the town needs to be cognizant of the gap between the moderate income folks and the really wealthy, and work out the tax plan to be fair so that the "little guy" isn't forced out of town by high taxes. I believe in paying my fair share but I would appreciate taxes being equitable.

2 - 270

Not losing its old character

2 - 271

1. Attracting high-speed internet access. This will enhance education, enterprise (home-based businesses) and even entertainment. Dial-up just doesn't cut it any more and will get even worse as time goes by and web files get larger and larger. 2. Figuring out growth policies. Not sure what the vision should be, but this is obviously on many residents' minds. 3. Keeping property taxes in check.

I think the biggest challenge is keeping the landscape as beautiful as it is, and keeping service in Lyme village to keep it a vibrant, meaningful center for our town. More office space (whether private or for the Town (Town offices don't need to be centrally located! Keep Lyme village pedestrian with a vibrant village-life feel. Town offices will not contribute to this goal.)) in Lyme Village is the kiss of death for the village. We need more community gathering spaces and service like a café where people can gather and talk & get to know each other. I think Nichols building for example would be a great place for a community center (similar to the Black Center in Hanover) for classes, hanging out (for kids), grabbing a coffee with someone, and for recreation during the 8 months of cold, inclement weather we have. We shouldn't burden the Lyme School and the Library with these community needs. Another comment: I believe cars travel too fast on Route 10 through town. I don't think police enforcement is the answer - I think we should employ traffic-calming measures (narrowed, planted, signed shoulders) on both side of Route 10 at the Big Rock preserve section and just North of where High Street meets Route 10.

The challenge will be to preserve this community in a fast moving "Wal-Mart world". We have all witnessed the sad, and sometimes disastrous, results of bad development.

The town needs to be vigilant in maintaining its rural character, scenic beauty and lack of density while encouraging more services and continued high quality education. In doing this, the town should not become a bedroom community for Hanover/Dartmouth.

Not a fortune teller.

2 - 283

Town appears to be becoming exclusive and perhaps a touch too "dear" and "cute". Lyme should not become a museum, nor should its role as a bedroom community, which it is, be expanded.

Maintaining the rural, peaceful character of the town without becoming totally homogenous and elitist.

How to maintain the special feeling & character of Lyme - its rural charm and beauty that distinguishes it from the other towns in the Upper Valley. Lyme is truly different in this way. Becoming another Hanover is not the way to go and on the other hand becoming another Thetford or Bradford would be bad too. Keeping Lyme's "uniqueness" is the challenge - a beautiful classic NH village but not too fancy like Norwich and not too built up like Fairlee or Bradford. There are not many towns like Lyme left in New Hampshire.

Channeling growth into clustered areas so that Lyme can continue/increase its economic/demographic diversity without compromising important farmland, forestland, natural areas, scenic beauty and other natural resources. We can have both if we are thoughtful and creative.

There is a middle class population in Lyme, many who bought homes here when prices were cheaper and they should not be forced out of town due to high property taxes as their property values appreciate;

2 - 294

Not developing it to the point where it feels like a gated community.

---

Q26c: What is the Town's biggest challenge for the future?

2 - 295

The biggest challenge is to maintain the rural values of our town, while allowing reasonable growth so that taxes can be controlled and we can share our town with others.

2 - 297

Expansion yet keep the feeling of small community.

2 - 298

---

2 - 302

2 - 305

Dealing with cultural changes is a consequence of the inevitable., Money's moving into town - wealthy natives, trust beneficiaries et al. Impacts include rising property values - good if you sell, bad if you can't afford it. Changing service demands. E.g. not everyone would agree that recreation should be a priority (p.s. I do!) Changing demographics - can make folks feel squeezed out/out of place.

Finding a place that will offer everyone a place to go for socializing, children's activities etc.

Maintaining adequate support for schools.

I think there are too many wealthy people moving in. There is lots of clearing going on and this worries me. I don't like when new people move in and change zoning laws that make it difficult for the ones who have lived here forever. I am especially upset about the beaver situation and the pond. Our greatest sense of summer vacation is being lost for the sake of beavers. Whose idea was that? Life and housing should be affordable for our native sons and daughters. They have more right to life in Lyme than do those of us who have moved here.

Q26c: What is the Town's biggest challenge for the future?

The town's biggest challenge is to preserve the small town feeling. Lyme is unique and its character should be maintained. The present zoning & housing rules should not be changed to accommodate those inconvenienced by the current rules, or else Lyme will cease to be Lyme. It will become like Hanover or Lebanon or whatever. If you like it there, move there! Don't change my town - it's why I moved here. Another challenge is to refrain from grandiose plans to add a ----- to town, at taxpayer's expense. There is no free lunch. If there is a genuine need, let the marketplace provide it. It would be nice to have a municipal golf course in Lyme, but I don't think non-golfing taxpayers should subsidize my golfing habit; nor should I be taxed to subsidize someone else's swimming or health club hobby. Taxes are high already! Keep it simple. A town should provide the basics like schools, roads, police. PERIOD. Amenities are best provided by the private sector.

Lyme must not allow the character of the town to disappear. We must eliminate the "not in my back yard" and "I got mine" attitudes that are developing. We must learn to protect private property rights for all our citizens. Lyme has been a beautiful place to live for many, many years without the busybody/big brother "I'll take care of you" attitude. I believe the oversight of our community affairs and conservation issues is becoming more complicated and is setting the poor against the rich. We can fix this!

Lyme's challenge will be to retain its rural character while maintaining control of its growth and meeting community service needs in a cost effective manner.

---

To reduce regulations on property owners rights to do what they want on their land.

To keep town as it is now. We should not become a Hanover or Lebanon. The services we offer now are fine.

Rediscovering the values & character on which the town was founded.

2 - 318

To keep growth and taxes down.

2 - 321

Easy -- affordable housing for people of all incomes.

2 - 324

Counteracting the present elitist tendency, encouraging diversity.

2 - 325

Balance. Lyme needs to balance retail and residential, old folk and younger families (I'm sure younger people will complain there is nothing to do -- maybe a teen center is needed). Balance the influx of older retired rich people with those who have lived here for a long time and face tax increases that may drive us off our land.

Town of Lyme
Planning Board*Citizens' Survey Comments*Q26c: What is the Town's biggest challenge for the future?

2 - 331

Maintaining the small town mentality and protecting the undeveloped land but without forcing out the middle and lower income families.

Limiting growth in such a way as to preserve Lyme's small town size/community/beauty.

2 - 335

2 - 338

Keeping rural nature with housing that will allow for range of incomes.

Thanks to zoning and a watchful and conscientious Planning Board, we have been able to retain the character of the community as described above. To maintain this character is perhaps the biggest challenge ahead.

The biggest challenge is to find a real balance between those who have what they want in open space and conserved land but want more and those who want to see Lyme share its special setting with others.

Growth

Growth + Taxes + Town Debt

3 - 2

The biggest challenge is maintaining rural character which excludes protecting open space as well as existing farms in western Lyme. The town also needs to address the problem of affordable housing, especially for seniors, without compromising zoning and without substantially adding to Lyme's school population. Hopefully, long-term Lyme residents won't be forced off their land by substantially higher taxes.

Growing nos. in school classrooms

The universal challenges: 1. How to make it possible to own property here, when young, in the face of influx of people who love the place and will pay the continually escalating land/home prices, making much unavailable to those just starting out. 2. How to allow people to profit from selling their land, yet not opening it to grotesque development.

Q26c: What is the Town's biggest challenge for the future?

Maintaining its smallness under pressure from the expansion/growth of Hanover/Norwich/Lebanon.

The biggest challenge - as the governing entity of Lyme is to avoid measures that change what I described above. More laws, regulations etc. don't necessarily preserve what is good. For example, the town should continue to take care of the green, but regulations restricting its use end up keeping people away from the community-building activities that take place on the green.

Finding people with common sense and a modest income and a working capability who will be willing to run for selectman (like Charles Ragan - preferably originally from town) There are too many conflicts of interest on the town-government level and to me this is not good. I am often convinced that major decisions are made at cocktail parties among friends or acquaintances and hence the democratic processes somewhat short-circuited.

3 - 10

Keeping Lyme attractive, keeping the old New England charm, and encouraging diversity at the same time.
Keeping Lyme as is but allowing for more economic diversity.

3 - 12

Post Pond beavers. Get rid of the beavers! Our tax pays for beach and beach area, lower the pond, get rid of the dam! The biggest challenge for this town is "How do you make everybody happy" I think taxes are way too high and we will soon only be able to take in the people that can afford it. Is that what we want? And the beaver dam ..... I have never seen such a battle over something so small as letting out water so that ALL can enjoy the pond and beach area that I believe OUR TAXES PAY FOR... it's a shame that it is almost July and yet hardly anyone has been to the beach because it is so wet, smelly and just plain gross.

Trying to change the town

3 - 16

Controlling growth and maintaining the town's beauty and character.

The biggest challenge as always is to balance preservation & development, which is of course a very difficult thing to do; however, Lyme is actually doing a really good job at it. The zoning rules seem to work fairly well for the time being anyhow. I don't see the need to change things much if at all. The continual drive for development is a somewhat antiquated idea that dates back to a young country expanding and growing over the last two centuries. We're now in a new era, one in which we need to operate carefully and conservatively.

Lyme's biggest challenge will be to defend its natural assets and rights against the propaganda that all towns must forfeit their individuality and unsustainable development.

Now this is a tough one,,, and I'm sure "big issues" for some aren't as big as for others. I'm certain there will be several big issues - and I'm certain I don't know all the answers. With all that said, I can comment... Growth and how to manage it is a big one, and with all the recent publicity, I'm guessing it will be the biggest at least in the near future. With growth, we will have a huge separation of opinions within the town. It appears the biggest difference in opinions will be the idea of "don't grow any more at all - save the wilderness and keep it green" and "I want to allow my children to have a chunk of my land to build a house on". I'm sure there is a middle ground, and I'm sure it will be found. Myself I don't want to see huge professional development on Rt 10 or N. Thetford road etc... but I also don't want to see a family tract of 150 acres of land and not be able to split off a chunk for a child because there isn't another 1000 foot of road (or whatever the footage is - well intentioned but maybe not the best number). We should be able to find some middle ground there. In addition to the potentially excessive restrictions, I certainly HATE the position some people take and fight to bend all the rules and push to get the variances for themselves - and with the right effort are successful - but then fight to keep them tight so others can't build in a similar environment. While I don't know this first hand, it sounds like stories around town support that claim - and I feel I did witness some of it at the voting booth on town meeting day. I think it's safe to say that almost everybody in town does not want large scale development. I could be wrong and maybe there is even a small few that do, but I don't think most people want that. However, with that said, I don't think most people would be opposed to relaxed rules that allow a little more housing on large lots allowed to be split to a child, or sold as one other lot etc. Again "most people". Another issue very near and dear to my heart, is a piece of the Post Pond area (Chase Beach, Ball field, Boat Launch - probably all of it). It needs to be dealt with SOON. While I think it is probably a smaller issue to others, it's big for me. The water level at Chase Beach has been horrible the past two years - coincidentally with the new parameters to breach the beaver dam at the outlet. At least that's how I see it. Yes, we have had a lot of rain this year, but, if properly managed, the beaver dam on the outlet would be able to handle the excessive water this year brought, without causing the horrific conditions at Chase Beach. I admit I don't know all the history, and how the parameters are set to follow, but what I'm witnessing - I think they are wrong! As I stated earlier, one of my favorite things in Lyme is Chase Beach - Do NOT let that wonderful recreation area be controlled by a few rodents! Consider a re-evaluation of the parameters and, if needed , let's have a town fundraiser by selling hats made from beaver skins ... Let us PLEASE reconsider the rules we are currently following.

1. Preserve the past, it is the future: protect the rural character and sense of space. Invest in infrastructure that makes location irrelevant in a global economy: high speed internet, great, great schools.
  2. Understand that the outdoors are you past, present, and future: space between sites, open, undeveloped space, recreation: running, skiing, swimming, etc. - keep encouraging it.
  3. Community: Everyone is needed, so participate by joining a town committee; find common good, don't be too partisan

4 - 65

Containing development. While I don't think the town should discourage all growth, I don't think growth should be encouraged either. Growth should be carefully planned.

---

4 - 71

I see three areas: 1. growth - More people moving here, how do we handle that?
2. Space - Town offices and police department need expansion.
3. I live in East Lyme and find that the town line between Lyme and Dorchester is a problem. More and more, Dorchester residents--who access their land in Lyme and use Lyme services (road maintenance and FAST squad) but DO NOT pay Lyme taxes are causing a problem. Their use of their land (okay, I'll be blunt. The Green Woodland area) has a negative impact on those of us who live in Lyme. Traffic, crime, road safety, and wear and tear.

1. Community Growth: The Upper Valley is a very attractive place to live. It would be easy for the growth rate to exceed the capacity to absorb it, resulting in decreasing the quality of life--added congestion, pollution, demand for services, possibly adding to the school, increased taxes (well documented that when a community experiences residential growth, everyone's taxes go up!)
  2. Keeping a mix of "old timers" and "newcomers" and people of a variety of income levels.

4 - 113

Sustainable growth while keeping housing affordable and property taxes reasonable. Cluster housing makes it easier for fire and police protection and road maintenance is reduced in terms of number of miles the crew has to maintain. People get to know one another better, community gardening possible, etc... I personally would live in a clustered community, especially as I get older. Also, greatly encourage fuel efficient vehicles, super insulated buildings (we live in one and they are wonderful), etc. We have a hybrid (Prius) that works very well on dirt roads, is very comfortable, safe and gets over 50 miles to the gallon.

c&d: Becoming sustainable is Lyme's, THE WORLD'S, biggest challenge. We must become a community where we are able to share, trade, and buy our goods and services without having to travel. We must support our farms and help them become organic. We must find ways of heating our homes, stores, offices, schools and churches with renewable resources and we must look to new sources of electrical power. As trucking becomes less sustainable, we may have to look to rail transportation.

All this we must do keeping in mind that we must always help those among us who are having difficulty adjusting, who are sick or in need. It will give the community greater opportunity to work together and to celebrate this exquisite place.

In terms of challenges, I do feel that there is a strong distinction between the attitudes and concerns of the generational residents, and those joining the community more recently from affluent or urban settings. There appears to be a growing disparity between the "haves" and the "have nots," with feelings of resentment brewing over issues such as land use and Town policies. There are many families whose roots go back generations, that are now finding their children are being "priced out" of the opportunity to continue to live in the Town. These families, many of whom are "land-rich and dirt-poor," face significant challenges as this process evolves. Since Lyme has become so desirable to the affluent, our population is increasing resulting in rising property values, increased demand for services and higher taxes. While this growth is probably inevitable (and perhaps not undesirable), the challenge will be to balance the needs of this economically diverse population. Care and respect needs to be given to the different attitudes and life experiences between the old residents and the new. Encouragement should be given to both examples to become active and involved in Town and community affairs, so that all opinions and levels of expertise are presented and given weight. There is much to learn from each other, and net worth should not play a role.

An issue we face in Campbell is that there are no young people from 19-35. The community is all single family, with usually no apartment units or affordable condo space for young folk. The biggest challenge for Lyme's future is the maintenance of the existing easy-going life style in the Town's beautiful setting while adjusting to the inevitability of increased growth. Whatever the degree of growth as the years pass, it is likely that there will be an increased demand for services. The crux of the challenge is having the resources to create the balance we all probably desire between the existing "idyllic," rural life style and the demands necessitated by growth.

I see three major challenges: getting the town's municipal services facilities properly housed at the right scale for the foreseeable future; encouraging medium and lower income housing development to maintain a reasonable social balance in the community; encouraging small-scale and specialized businesses to make a home in Lyme.

As this form suggests, it is growth and how to manage it (housing, services, etc.) without changing the town's rural character and increasing the taxes to a degree that people are forced to move out. Taxes are also a challenge, a big one!

Q26c: What is the Town's biggest challenge for the future?

4 - 204

The town needs to make sure that the natives are not crowded and taxed out of their homes. They have made Lyme what it is.

Lyme's biggest challenge in the future will be to try to not make the same mistake that has been made over and over all around the country, and that is having urban sprawl with no overall plan. Our zoning is going a long way to stop this and we should be proud of it, but zoning does get changed when there is enough money and lawyers involved, so the town needs to be on guard. Ultimately, the only way to save land from development is to put it in conservation easements, so the town needs to continue to put easements on land that should not be developed. Lyme is way ahead of most towns in this, but it should keep going in this direction.

Zoning is always problematic in that you can never please everyone, although I think not having zoning is far worse. Ultimately people have to sacrifice something to preserve land for the good of everyone else and when it comes down to it, most people don't want to do this. I see Lyme as one of the few towns in the Upper Valley that has a chance to allow growth in such a way that 50 years from now, the town will still look like a more or less rural New England town. The only way this will happen, however, is if we can put even more land in conservation easements, and not allow the zoning to be gradually changed to accommodate the people who want to make a lot of money doing development.

becoming a "gated community"

To preserve the very qualities which attracted so many of us to Lyme, and at the same time allow for careful development if we are to move forward, is the major challenge. As employment opportunities in the area develop, as more retirees move to the Upper Valley, these other factors will put housing pressures on Lyme. At the same time, we need to be able to keep taxes affordable for Lyme's long-term residents (not to mention us!). It is going to take a fine-tuned balancing between preservation and development.

Biggest challenge is retaining that rural character as Hanover/Lebanon grow-it would be easy to end up with a lot of suburban style development (like cul-de-sacs right off Route 10)

Lyme is a lovely small community right now. With the slow rate of growth and common hardships, newcomers have absorbed the existing spirit of Lyme rather than overwhelming it. The biggest challenge will be to keep growth slow so Lyme will continue to retain its charm, beauty, and sense of community (identity). Lyme residents should recognize that the town has developed in a good - practically perfect - way. Rather than seeking the imagined advantages of growth, which would threaten both the scenic beauty and strong community bond Lyme now has, Lyme should accept itself for what it is, continue and remain content to be the small but very special place it always has been.

It also will continue to attract retiring Dartmouth graduates with the income to purchase a home where they wish. The biggest challenge is how to manage growth so as not to destroy that charm.

I think the biggest challenge will be to maintain or foster a sense of town identity for people who work long hours and commute out--especially if they have no children in schools. People who have this sense of belonging in Lyme are more willing to participate in town affairs and thereby continue to building "community." Interestingly, the lively town e-mail seems to play a role in fostering Lyme identity for new and younger residents. Also, there is a challenge, or should be, of keeping the bureaucratic tendencies to a minimum. The hard-working recycling committee let this get out of hand--understandably, but.... Another example is making life difficult for the Bargain Barn and River clean-up crew. Very silly and annoying and not in the spirit of the community.

Over the 20+ years that I have lived here, it has slowly changed from a town with a mix of locals and newcomers to one in which the newcomers now outnumber the locals. Zoning which favors the (usually wealthy or well-offs) newcomers has been instituted. Folks on the lower end of the economic spectrum i.e. the elderly, poor, and more likely local, have slowly been squeezed out of town. Lyme is now littered with McMansions, rising like mushrooms along ridgeline and hills. Restrictive zoning does not easily permit locals to divide their property in order to pass along or create home sites for their children. Townspeople with money or influence can circumvent the town rules and offices and do as they please. The end result appears to be that the town we have all come to love is rapidly becoming another enclave for the wealthy. We all love Lyme for its beauty, natural resources, lazy days at Post Pond, the community events like the Christmas Pageant and the holiday parades. But the town must be willing to peel away this veneer of civility and decide whether its future lies in helping all its citizens to remain here, or whether it will become a community designed exclusively for those who can afford the bill.

Town offices are hardly ever open, much less for the working members of Lyme. Property taxes are extremely high, and annual reappraisals guarantee rates of future increase which will force out locals and those barely able to hang on. Why doesn't Lyme adapt a strategy of "making do with what it has"--just as we all have to do in our lives?

Development and tax base: The community appears to work well at the volunteer and private contribution level to support activities that are of interest to groups. Taxes are high as are real estate costs--tilting the demographics toward the wealthy. This trend will increase over the next 10-50 years as Hanover, CT, MA, etc. push their bounds. There's a call for affordable housing--it is needed. A full spectrum of lower cost, smaller lot solutions are needed, but they must be coupled with an increase in the commercial/retail/business base to provide some tax relief for owners. If the taxes don't decrease, the population density will continue to move toward the high income/wealthy owner.

There was a design for commercial districts. The Dartmouth Highway cluster has deteriorated to condos and a non-profit school. The Nichols store faces the prospect of becoming non-profit town hall. Other enterprises have started up along Route 10--the corridor--it won't be too long before stop lights will be required near the Crossroads. The trend is toward dispersion of services (include all non-residential activities) instead of planned, concentrated pockets where access is limited and carefully configured.

4 - 284

Not over taxing people to the point that they can no longer "afford" to live in Lyme (especially the elderly who have been a part of the Lyme community for so long.)

4 - 285

The biggest challenge to allow for some limited growth without jeopardizing the character and beauty of Lyme. Farm families should be able to give their kids a building lot. But I don't want a bunch of "McMansions" on Lyme's beautiful hillsides. Definitely don't want any large commercial development.

Lyme is a town that is beautiful on the outside, but its character is dying on the inside. The diversity of people that gives Lyme its character is disappearing as the town becomes one where only the exclusive and the wealthy can afford to live. In the future, there will be far less families that have lived in Lyme for multiple generations as their children cannot afford to stay in this town, nor can working class folks afford to move to Lyme.

At first glance, Lyme appears to have a balance of all income classes in its housing; but that is only an illusion. The lower income housing in Lyme is from existing inventory and is being eliminated as affordable houses are bought for their lots or homes that are extensively upgraded. Further, most of the most valued homes in Lyme are folks that have lived in those houses for years and in many cases before our restrictive zoning was enacted. Absolutely no affordable housing has been added this century in Lyme.

Managing development/growth and keeping the rural, small town feel.

4 - 342

Not becoming an enclave for the wealthy. Retaining its small town feel and community spirit. Keeping Lyme affordable.

4 - 343

Community involvement is a big challenge. People don't participate only if directly involved such as Memorial Day. Want activities to happen, but don't want to help or attend. Also, building a sense of community, new people don't know their neighbors. They don't seem to care about their neighbors needs or struggles; new people coming into town don't know how to be involved nor do they want to participate.

Most of the land in town is in conservation so there aren't many places to grow. Large estate type homes are dominating. However, one acres is too small for water and septic. Zoning is too restrictive--too many rules and procedures. You have to get permission to do anything. Yes, need more commercial opportunities. Lyme shouldn't be only bedrooms.

staying small and quiet

4 - 347

Affordable housing and keeping taxes manageable for middle-income households.

4 - 348

Creating a diverse and vibrant community--not a retirement town.

4 - 349

The town's big challenge going forward is preserving these desirable qualities in the face of significant developmental and economic pressures. Lyme's proximity to the Hanover/Norwich area makes it vulnerable to housing development and inflation of existing housing costs as people priced out of those two towns look for cheaper options while being able to remain within a reasonably short commuting distance from them. Lyme's restrictive zoning serves as a bulwark against unrestrained development. In addition, the relatively large amount of town land deeded to conservation, I am told Lyme leads all communities in the state in this regard, limits opportunity for expansion. However, this comes at a cost. Limited opportunity to develop means restricted possibility for expanding the town's tax base. Without more residential or commercial development, as rising costs for services and infrastructure put upward pressure on taxes, each existing household will bear a bigger burden rather than spreading it across a bigger base. This will be problematic in particular for lower income families, young families starting out or older people on fixed incomes. This model of a relatively small population assuming an every-increasing tax burden will not sustain the socio-economic diversity of Lyme as we know it. Reducing services (police, fire, roads, library, etc) and school funding will not be acceptable, in the eyes of many townspeople, as a way of keeping property taxes in check. But if property taxes are not kept in check, people of limited means will be under pressure to look elsewhere for a more affordable housing situation. That could render a very beautiful community with a very homogenous population of wealthy professionals and second homers.

Q26c: What is the Town's biggest challenge for the future?

4 - 350

To minimize and curtail over-development and fast paced, denser population growth. To keep housing and taxes reasonable and affordable. For me, one of the saddest things in recent years is to see what is happening to farms, farmers, and their families. It is unfortunate to see native citizens faced with the struggle to pay ever-increasing property taxes to keep and maintain land that has been in their families for decades. No one should have to be driven from their home because they are land rich, but do not have the income to sustain what has been theirs for centuries. But our current tax structure in New Hampshire has done just that.

The property taxes since I have been in my current home have doubled. Since the state is so-structured that taxes are derived primarily from property value assessments, it places an inordinate burden on those of us whose income cannot keep pace with these spiraling property values. The purchase of land and property is a one-time acquisition that, in itself, does not create income (unless, ironically, one has to part with it). Yet its value continues to increase while ones income may not. Property assessments are arbitrary and subjective. What once someone could easily afford, they now find they cannot because of the taxes. There is something wrong with this. In recent years, this area's housing values have been artificially inflated. They are totally out of scale and inconsistent with the areas economic opportunities and income. In addition, while the older, limited-income residents have struggled to remain here in Lyme, it has become apparent it is going in the direction of becoming an exclusive town of highly affluent people which continues to drive up housing values. I would not like to see Lyme turn into a "Westport, CT." I do not know what we can do to fix that, but I still feel the need to express my consternation to a real problem that has had a negative impact in my view, creating a hardship for many people. Property taxes are unfair because they are biased and have nothing to do with one's ability to pay. They are also inequitable because not everyone pays into the system. For example, adult, able-bodied employed children living at home with parents do not pay their fair share. As property values remain the predominate source of tax revenue, and until major changes are made in the state's tax structure, property taxes will continue to have a detrimental effect on the welfare of many of our citizens and how they are able to manage their lives. With the current cost of gas and fuel oil, it's hard to keep ones head above water.

Another challenge is the town's municipal buildings. I was hesitant to check that Lyme "should" undertake capital projects because doing so increases an already high tax burden. While I see the need for and support future town office relocation, I do not know if we need to build new public buildings at the taxpayer's expense. It is a real dilemma. I would like to see a more conservative approach. Finding an existing structure is far more sensible given the exploding cost of building materials today. However, I do not know enough about what the options are. As we all have to budget our personal expenses, and make sacrifices, so does the town. We all have to live within our means.

I feel that a higher population increases the tax base, which can be a good thing, but also adds new burdens for additional services, thus higher taxes. However, I am realistic enough to know more development and population growth is inevitable. I would like to see a slow, managed growth in Lyme. I would like to see more affordable housing available along with cluster development and housing for middle income citizens which preserves more open space while combined with the higher end development. I would prefer that Lyme maintain a mix of socio-economic backgrounds and remain a community of townspeople from all walks of life.

To stop the alarming trend of this community becoming a one strata town. A Stepford town with nothing but the wealthy, educated, privileged allowed. We have already lost so much of the richness of Lyme. This town occasionally seems to care more about trees and plants and birds and it does its people and although I absolutely think those are important, I feel the people are its greatest resource and that certain segments of Lyme have already been priced north to Piermont, Haverhill, Woodsville....

Maintaining its rural character and scenic beauty

9 - 4

The Towns biggest challenge is to get the real estate taxes lowered so people who are not wealthy don't have to move to escape the taxes.

To retain its local population is important. Lyme's character is defined by the old families who carry on traditions and history. A rapid growth rate would be bad for the town. Newcomers in large numbers begin to want the town to have all the services and conveniences of the places they came from.

Maintaining a manageability of town government relative to a defined quality of life for its residents. To maintain manageability it is necessary to consider the numbers: the numbers of citizens, numbers of resources (monies / budget, land, water, etc.), numbers of services needed. The quality of life of the town and of the residents needs to be defined. Such a definition ought to include factors such as: environment (air, water, natural resources); individual's issues such as physical (safety, health, ageing), emotional (security, climate of trust, charity, love). There needs to be a balance between the numbers referred to such that managing the town results in meeting the agreed upon agenda for a quality of life style of governance.

To maintain town services without overly taxing high end property owners.

Maintain town services on a fair share basis - Need to impose an income tax in State and not totally a property tax. * Against creating a low income housing niche without the job infrastructure to provide in town jobs - need to attract more commercial/retail business base to provide jobs for those that will take advantage of the _____ of low income housing

We need to work on our departments - most importantly the highway garage. We have many employees, equipment, and now a large expensive building. The roads are being poorly maintained (in some cases not maintained at all...and please do not use Mr. Stearn's stroke as an excuse...we have had plenty of time to better service since then!) Do we need more of a leader in this area? Maybe someone to re-use materials instead of giving away to homeowners as fill? Is this not costing us money? We have spent a lot of money for this department lets start to see them take better care of equipment and building. I think that I would be more open minded about expanding fire/police or town offices if I knew that that building was going to be taken care of. As it stands now the highway department garage is poorly cared for, and it makes me hesitate to build another if the town officials/town offices are not going to encourage and demand dept heads to maintain their space. It would be wonderful to have a better way to alert community members of public meetings. Maybe even plan meetings for times that working folks can attend.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

Find a way to keep enough housing accessible

Smaller lot size - cluster housing in cul-de-sacs & shared services, i.e. septic, well etc. Making those who move here from a city environment realize that a small town can not provide the same services they are accustomed to in the city. In many instances those who seek a friendly village and a slower pace of life are the ones who are driving it away from their demands. Good school system for our young people should be a top priority.

Make sure only quality businesses and home come in/up.

Use common sense as a guide to flexibility. Get rid of the junk auto dumps all over the place.

allow more growth; controlled/encourage in current population centers

2 - 10

Allow more growth; controlled/encouraged in current population centers

2 - 12

Redo the zoning ordinance so as to allow more modest minimum acreage requirements, especially in the forest and Mountain District. Modify the Steep slopes district - there's no reason that housing can not be built on sloping land; the Europeans do it all the time and hence reserve the flatter sloping land for farming.

Realistically and very carefully. While the town will grow I do not think we want it to become a West Leb. Or White river Junction. Property tax - huge concern! I worry about folks who have lived in town forever but cannot afford rising taxes. It would be a terrible shame for these folk to be forced out of their homes because of over-inflated housing market 'values'!

Resist opening loopholes for development that sound good on paper, but have unforeseen consequences that could ruin the town

2 - 21

---

2 - 25

Keep a check rein on spending

---

---

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

Maintain/increase restrictive zoning. Do everything legally possible to minimize existing lot divisions.
Encourage expansion of conservation easements

2 - 27

This is a great start. Lyme is full of smart, thoughtful people who care deeply about its future. I'm confident we can come together as a community to arrive at creative solutions.

2 - 28

Continue zoning controls

2 - 32

Encourage population stability. Encourage small-scale commerce. Encourage re-use of existing housing.
Discourage rural sprawl.

2 - 33

cut some things back

2 - 34

Reduce spending. Eliminate town meeting in favor of ballot voting so more residents can participate

2 - 35

Nothing

2 - 36

Limit new growth! - allow only selected subdivision, give tax breaks based on age and the time the individual has owned and lived in the house. Someone who has lived in a 200 old year home for 50 years should pay less than one who has lived a year in a one year old home

2 - 37

Manage changes slowly

2 - 38

Look at towns that have been through this already. Develop the "down town" part of town to keep traffic down and allow business to grow. Work with larger land owners to keep their properties "open" to public. Allow "locals" to divide their land among family to make affordable housing for their siblings. Prevent the town from pricing out the people that built Lyme and grow slowly, mart and steady.

Employ our zoning to accommodate some of these needs. If Lyme is to grow, it must have more families that can afford to live here.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

---

Be clear about the town's WANTS and NEEDS! For example, do we really NEED as much police protection as we have? Do the roads need to be so heavily salted that my dogs can't go for a walk because the salt burns their feet? How can we hold costs down rather than looking for what else we should have to be more like Hanover or Norwich?

Many Town Little Meetings

---

2 - 42

Strict Zoning

2 - 43

how to address these issues requires some thought, brainstorming with others and reading on the subject. I haven't got that far.

Careful consideration of geographic and economic impact of growth opportunities.

2 - 45

Use common sense, resist pressure from groups with specific agendas.

Could the town (or a non-profit agency of it) assist lower income buyers or purchase modest houses as they come on the market and rent them?

Pay attention to what's going on, listen to what's being reported and act on it now! Later will be too late. Make sure this information gets where it really needs to go.

The town needs to make sure that local people with deep roots in Lyme are not driven out by property taxes. Zoning restrictions need to be re-evaluated as indicated by issues raised at Town Meeting.

2 - 53

The budget committee needs to closely monitor tax increases - especially those engendered by expansion of school, and town facilities beyond what a town of less than 2000 people needs. New and larger do not always equate to better. While it isn't necessary to create many small lots for housing, 2-3 acre lots should be allowed in more areas of town that are already residential. The neighborhood tax that is applied should be reconsidered for those owning smaller homes in a section that has seen large homes built. This increase in tax for the small home owner seems another place where Lyme has become less affordable. A $6000 tax bill translates to $500/month - for many this is a burden.

2 - 71

Zoning that doesn't encourage only McMansions & 2nd Homes.

The town must grow, but needs to preserve itself. Business is good, condo and cluster housing is okay, but all need to keep environmental impact minimal. Only lighting approved by the (blank) should be allowed. Cluster housing must preserve adequate free space. But we need the future. Let's plan for cell towers before the state tells us we have to have them for the emergency response infrastructure. I called the "local" cable company before having satellite receivers installed. "When will cable reach Lyme?" I asked, "Not in your lifetime" they responded. Lyme needs to plan for the future and preserve itself.

2 - 74

Encourage more zoning options for housing

2 - 76

Keep zoning tough

2 - 78

The zoning should be lenient enough to allow medium-sized homes on medium-sized lots. This would preserve the range of incomes that has been a characteristic of Lyme. Large landowners have tax advantages - current use - that makes smaller landowners carry a greater tax burden. There needs to be some equalization of the tax burden.

The town should discourage growth of a commercial nature... encourage open woods and fields. Allow as little building as possible either residential or commercial. Our services need not be expanded, just maintained as they are now. Developing a richer place, not a bigger place should be our goal.

Slow the growth of high-end houses and second homes.

Enforce speed limits rigorously (try driving 55 on Rt 10 and see how many cars pile up behind or pass you in a mile). Discourage recreation that involves motorized vehicles such as snowmobiles, ATVs, Motor Bikes.

2 - 90

Encourage farm economy!

2 - 91

---

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

2 - 92

Maintain the present zoning ordinance and make it extremely difficult for outfits like <names removed> to run our town. We are growing fast enough

2 - 96

If you want to be a "park land" then you need to hire a professional conservationist to lead the future planning/development of a "green" community.

2 - 97

Raise taxes if necessary. Ask for donations -- I don't know for sure but I am certainly willing to pay a bit more in taxes to make sure the town maintains the small town character (I don't want to - but am willing to)

2 - 101

I think the current zoning laws are overly strict. I do not like the trend in the U.S. to plunk a house down on large lots. This wrecks the environment. I prefer clustered housing, co-housing, co-ops and other "village" style development that provide safe, comfortable, and affordable (small) homes for those with the need or interest in living in Lyme. Our population is the U.S. is aging. So older people will need modest, single-level homes. I would love to bring my aging parents to Lyme, but there are no appropriate units for them, and Lord knows I can't afford two houses in Lyme. Also, my husband and I, when we were single, both rented in Lyme. At the time, there were very few affordable options and I think that's still true. We would like to be able to add an apartment in our own house, eventually, but are daunted by the zoning regs. And restrictions. Overall I appreciate the spirit of the zoning rules, but where they make it necessary to build on large lots, restrict multi-family home units (which can be done well) and prevent areas that are not otherwise naturally redeeming to see some modest construction.

Another issue is traffic and transportation. We are not far from Route 10 and hear the roar of the road almost constantly - trucks, Harleys (there should be a noise ordinance!!) and commuters. Many VT dwellers come over our bridge each morning & down River road - they drive fast and furious. Many Vters come down 10 to avoid the Ledyard Bridge. In the evening, flow is reversed. The traffic is a real safety and noise concern of mine. (on the other hand, more businesses to capture our dollars might not be a bad thing) Oh, and I really wish they wouldn't drive 65-70mph on Rt 10!! Maybe more policing to enforce the speed limit would help. Finally, I'll put my 2c in about Internet access. I work as an IT professional, and so does my husband. We need to be able to work from home, but have almost no options from our house (just 200 yds off Rt 10) Meanwhile, my parents in Podunk, Maine have DSL. My friend 5 miles up a dirt road in Cornish has DSL. What is up with Lyme that they (phone company) won't put in access. We are also dismayed by lousy cell coverage. Often there are accidents on our road and people have to bang on our door to call 911. It's the old-fashioned way and it works, but it feels un-necessary in this day and age. Thank you for listening. I really love Lyme - wouldn't want to live anywhere else. I love my neighbors (even though we have wildly different politics) and my community. As a couple with no kids it's hard to meet people but we're slowly getting to be Lymies. Thanks again.

Change the zoning to allow houses on small lots (as per Tom Toner & Arend Tensen's suggestions) How about a trailer park? Better than "Housing for Humanity"

2 - 150

Stay flexible, not go overboard in any direction. Last town we lived in, developers owned the permitting office. Development was accelerating & McMansions on postage stamps on lollipop drives (But "dedicated" as public roads) Just Nuts. If it is a dead-end, don't accept the dedication as a public road - let it stay a condo/shared driveway. But stay flexible on permitting exceptions to zoning. & don't go nuts with new services, new "features" - we can keep taxes from skyrocketing, encourage volunteerism - for making improvements to trails, pond area & such. Bottom line - it ain't broke so don't fix it.

2 - 153

Keep political dialogue going, seeking participation via committees, this survey etc. are all good. Reasonably tight fiscal policy a must. Need to keep fixed income and young families in mind. Encourage and expand use of existing facilities for arts and athletics rather than build costly new ones.

Change zoning laws to enable more mixture of various income families.

Keeping land open for recreation by encouraging people not to post their land through tax incentives. I feel that we should also help maintain farms by giving a tax credit for land under tillage or grazing. I feel that our zoning regulation is too inflexible and that the planning and zoning boards do not try to help citizens accomplish what they want. Without being adversarial it seems that most zoning and planning changes are to tighten the screws, making it harder and harder to build a home in Lyme. I am in favor of clustering houses and having more open land. I don't feel large lot requirements are good. Better to keep houses close together and not in the middle of big lots breaking up the land. I don't agree with many of the driveway requirements.

The wealthy residents should contribute more towards the taxes and emergency fund! I would love to see Nichols hardware turned into a fitness center/senior center/community center and volunteer-based health center (run cooperatively). I live off the grid and would feel much safer if I had cell phone reception in case of emergency. No phone service now! This is the 2nd survey I have filled out and returned -- not sure why they didn't get the 1st one?

Encourage dialogue (like this) between older residents and younger families, new residents and those who have been here for a long time. Recognize that private citizens can do a lot, if motivated - recent examples include the Academy Building/Lyme Historians, Lyme Nursery School's, Crossroads School, growth of Lyme Foundation, Those Guys and many of the services to the community quietly provided by the Lyme and Lyme Center churches. Consider ways to better introduce new residents to the town, its history, its advantages and its responsibilities and opportunities for service. Q6b: Town should set a goal of doing one Habitat for Humanity house in Lyme each year. Q12: We should know in a small town, the number, conditions, needs etc of the senior population. (70 and above?) Through voluntary efforts we could probably do more.

Install careful planning/policies for growth; using feedback like this survey. Make affordable housing a priority; located in existing villages. Promote support for small businesses - internet access. Promote transportation, other than single diver cars - Bike paths/Bus services. Look at the pressures Norwich has experienced -- Don't overbuild for school/community capital projects. Keep major capital expenses to a minimum, to enable affordability. Utilize private groups, such as Lyme Foundation to generate enhancements . Utilize sustainable practices in Community projects modeling best approaches for energy conservation etc.

Zoning rules should remain strict so that uncontrolled development will not occur. Many long-term residents are threatened by the growth of the value of their homes & the resulting increase in property taxes. Others will be motivated by greed to push for looser zoning. We need to limit the growth of costs wherever possible to keep property taxes down. We should also increase the support given to low-income older families in reducing this tax load.

Make all the people in Lyme who are pushing growth move to Lebanon and on down to MASS.

The town could be less restrictive on giving out building permits. It seems that people who move in from out of town and buy land are able to obtain a building permit easily and then build large homes. At the same time a person who has lived in town for 20+ years struggles to obtain a building permit to build a modest home on family land. Because of this, children whose families have lived in town for generations are forced to move to towns where they can build (Orford, Piermont, Thetford, Fairlee etc)

We must have some growth - some planned cluster housing. I would like to see some more small businesses in the village and on Route 10 south to Hanover. Please, if there is any way to have the transfer station open on Saturday so that people could go to church on Sundays I would be very grateful. Those who go to Church in Hanover (etc) for a 9 o'clock service do not have enough time to go before (recycling takes more than five minutes) and there is not enough time when one returns to Lyme. Some Sundays we either do not get to church or we have to be late. Q14: Lyme should take steps to protect what we have ; not add to. We do not need much more conserved land.

Exceptions to rules on property should be granted if no evidence of harm. Not granting exceptions for fear of setting precedence is not sufficient grounds to deny reasonable use of property.

Look at how other towns have changed/grown over the years. See what worked and what didn't. Continue to keep the taxpayers involved.

2 - 263

Keep getting easements on land. Maintain strong zoning ordinances. Allow native sons & daughters, below a certain income, to build on their parents' land with some exemptions to minimum plot size. Possibly some low income housing, but this won't necessarily protect natives; it will attract some people to Lyme. (which I oppose, but recognize is inevitable.)

1. Keep plugging away on the internet problem. 2. keep the discussion going. Perhaps compile relevant statistics on past and projected growth (in terms of population, property taxes, school enrollment etc) to better inform the discussion. Lack of retail is an issue now that Nichols is gone -- have to drive to Hanover or Fairlee to buy basics. 3. Keep a lid on recent expansion of town-owned facilities (town garage, town office, etc.) Consider taxation of income rather than property. Consider town-owned projects that will be a net generator of income, thereby easing the property tax burden for residents (example: power generation (from renewable resources)). Attract new businesses that will contribute more to tax base than they consume in town services.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

In terms of preserving our beautiful landscape - if the town must encourage new housing (which I think is wrong) then INFILL! Keep the fields green. Provide more incentives to farmers to keep them going.

2 - 273

Embrace it, with our minds' most gifted treasure, common sense, for which a degree isn't given.

2 - 275

Stop development

2 - 277

How to address the challenge - good question! Be careful. Be intelligent.

The town should maintain large lot zoning in all but village areas and should require all developers to contribute to the cost of all town services including schools to the extent that such development increases town population.

It might be wise to hire regional planning consultants to assist in the decision making process.

Suggest creating more commercial & jobs opportunities within town together with an honest effort at "affordable" housing (ownership, not rental)

2 - 284

Limit and control development. Most importantly I believe that Lyme should consider its own development in the context of the neighboring towns in the Upper Valley. It should not try to be all things, but it should try to contribute to the area by making the whole of the Upper Valley greater than the sum of its parts. For example, instead of commercial development, we should share in the cost of a gym in another town, in exchange for access. We do need some business in town to build the tax base and we need to be sure that we have a good financial model for 10 years out. So, maintain the bucolic, rural beauty of the town with limited development. Plan not only for the town, but for how the residents can live happily in the broader Upper Valley.

Have a planning board that understands this issue and really cares about the special character of Lyme as they plan for the future.

2 - 288

Create a transfer-of-development rights capability within the Lyme zoning ordinance. Have the town partner with a local nonprofit housing developer (or for-profit developer) to create affordable/workforce housing near the village. Allow smaller lot size & clustering & multiple uses in village areas - focus growth in developed areas. Allow the use of creative technologies (composting toilets, solar heat, etc.) that may not conform with current codes but that meet objectives in a creative way.

Town of Lyme
Planning Board*Citizens' Survey Comments*Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

Answer to this problem deserves action at state level, to install income tax & decrease property taxes, which are archaic and regressive. Locally I'd like to see Lyme continue to preserve it's wild lands, something we can do so well.

2 - 294

Keep taxes down.

2 - 295

The town must recognize and reject many of what I call "suburban values". We must work hard to run a town without "high-speed chase vehicles", expensive town buildings, leash laws in rural areas, postings of land, overemphasis on "wild forest" versus the tremendous need to foster open land. It is absurd for new owners to bar horses from land always open to trail riding, to forbid the use of "conserved land" and to post traditional hunting areas. The typical attitude that "I have my land and now no one else can use it and no one else can build and share the town" must be fought. The best way to preserve a rural atmosphere is to make sure the Town government and especially the Planning Boards has local business people, tradespersons and local professional serving. To weight the Planning Board heavily in favor of so-called conservationists is to create an elitist town. The result may well be to increase the value of existing properties, but in the long run, Lyme will be like tens of thousands of other suburbs, clean, well-ordered, well-protected. But it will no longer be a "Live Free or Die" rural town.

Planned growth looking at conservation of rural areas & character of villages, maybe through farm tax breaks and tax easements for conserved land . Moderate growth looking at necessary building i.e. fire station/police station , town offices also needs for the future and planning for energy efficiency in these building projects.

2 - 298

Zoning regulations

2 - 301

Keep any housing growth near the Tuckaway Timber site. Make use of the Nichols hardware building to keep town office, shops, coffee shop downtown. Bike path/side walk to any new housing near Tuckaway Timber. Children and parents could easily get to town without a car. Nichols Hardware building is a key building for Lyme - getting rid of the gas pumps, putting in some trees, redesign parking - the front of this building could have an improved porch area & screen area for a nice coffee, tea "Dirt cowboy" kind of place - would increase tourism - lots of local Lyme folks could gather.

Development that only restricts excesses, not growth opportunity. Also a business center that brings technology to small business.

Continue to emphasize community. Build a reasonable community center/town office and keep it full of activities. The more Lyme interacts, the more its problems will resolve.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

---

2 - 309

Utilize existing buildings for town offices, fire and police. Keep the buildings true to the setting but function in today's times. Nichol's building could function as a community center, fitness center or a recreation center - if the town offices can't make it work.

2 - 311

I don't have the answer except perhaps making sure that older residents, town elders, have a huge say in town development. While it is wonderful that newcomers want to serve the community, I'm not sure they understand small town life. I've seen big changes in this town in the time we've been here.

2 - 313

Fix or rewrite our zoning ordinance for starters. Let's encourage the development of all parts of our town for residential and small business use. We need to keep property taxes in check. Some of the things we would like to develop in this town like recreation fields, trails, conservation of land etc. should not be paid for with the public purse. As individuals we should financially support our own passions. In other words let's put our money where our mouths are!

2 - 314

Lyme zoning since inception has been developed and controlled by financially independent individuals who have limited concern for others having limited resources to fend off perceived or actual threats to their meager financial independence. Lyme's challenge is to turn this image around by honestly making use of this survey and not using it like a menu where you may pick & choose what is palatable and ignore the remainder. Please respect the survey's intent & adjust out zoning regulations to be more user friendly for all Lyme residents including those of low and medium income housing.

Reduce planning & zoning restrictions making it easier for all people to be created equal - and live free before they die.

Bigger is not always better. Keep town and school taxes down by fairer assessments. No large developments to require more services.

2 - 317

It's probably too late; there are so many elitists and special interest groups pushing their own agenda.

If I knew the answer to that one I would be on the planning board.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

2 - 321

1. Let up on the density restrictions across all districts by any combination of methods - allow for smaller building lots and less road frontage requirements, decrease the agricultural soils district, eliminate the restriction on subdividing lots under 10 acres etc. 2. Expand the Lyme village north and south. The Bailey farm south of town is an ideal place for an extension of the village. 3. I think creating another village cluster or "center" in Lyme is not feasible because few sites along route 10 will support a significant cluster of homes. 4. I would not rule out concentrated development in the forest District.

Assure some low income housing & zone for clusters & small lots.

2 - 325

Part of this is a state issue -- tax credits for farmers?? The town needs to conserve open land to keep Lyme attractive but also needs to allow some limited development for more affordable housing. Don't zone out mobile homes - but help the owners to make them more attractive or provide reasonable alternatives.

I wish I had a brilliant answer.

2 - 334

Allow growth, but under fairly strict/well-planned zoning. It's good to allow growth, but only in the right way.

2 - 335

Let more houses be built and more business.

We should explore ways to encourage more affordable housing so that persons who have modest income can live here. We should also revise our zoning laws to prohibit the growth of large trophy homes or McMansions which are completely out of character with the history of the community.

The best way to achieve this balance is to reduce the influence of extremists on either side & enhance the influence of those who are consensus builders.

2 - 341

Rigorously enforce zoning.

Clustered housing, perhaps assisted care for seniors, which would have mixed income prices, would free up modestly priced housing for younger family members. This should be near the town center with Advance Transit service.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

1. I'm uncomfortable in "low-priced housing" since it tends to make mascots of the people who utilize it. Favor some sort of grant or pricing arrangement to make purchase, restoration of existing dwellings readily affordable. 2. Make any real-estate commission greater than 3% payable to town coffers to enhance #1.

Re-examine master plan to be sure protections are in place to preserve its small-town nature.

One way to address that challenge is to look at the size of government; get an outside analysis of town agencies. The drive to build a new town hall is, in part, due to the large number of people who work for the town. I think there may be ways to improve the efficiency of services - and perhaps the current town office space - to allow us to continue within the current structure. I fear my taxes will force me to move if we are to build a new building. But one of the other effects of new rules, regulations, as well as seemingly frequent assessments. My main point is that I think Lyme needs to assess what kind of governing and services it is providing. While I think that Lyme growth has been pretty stable, town offices and employees are growing at a fast rate and I wonder if anyone is looking at the big picture. Don't get me wrong - I love Lyme and I greatly respect the people working for us in the town offices. One other point: I'd love to see town offices in the Nichols building. Thanks for undertaking this survey.

Good question and one that needs working on (seriously) hard.

3 - 10

Good question. Create areas of cluster housing for diverse socio-economic groups - but keep it to a minimum. Keep zoning, but give some aid for those who can't work through the labyrinth of rules & regulations with ease (that would be everyone).

3 - 12

Trap them, remove them, relocate them, lower the pond! To address the tax challenge, I have no idea..... To address the beaver dam and pond.....let out the water every fall and spring so that the pond area does not get how it was this year. Trap the beavers and relocate them or just get rid of them....

3 - 16

Careful planning; lots of feedback from residents and landowners.

3 - 18

Lyme should maintain its independence and continue to celebrate and encourage the preservation of land and the conservation of its natural resources. In particular, the Town should encourage the protection of agricultural land by finding the means by which Lyme's citizens can support and participate in agricultural activity.

1. zoning to regulate growth/development
  2. encourage small business development of clean, especially high tech sort to boost tax base: software, architecture, professional, IT, restaurants, hotels/inns, etc
This would require DSL lines! Possible short-term tax breaks; public-private partnerships (esp. timbering public lands)

4 - 20

Question "c." seems like too much to ask for both outcomes.

---

4 - 21

4 - 22

Get things done faster! Have a computer station access to citizens in the Town Hall where citizens can see all proceedings of its government. Make it possible for anyone to be a selectman by a ten-fold increase in the "salary" of selectmen since paperwork and rules are so excessive!

4 - 25

For points above:

1. spend the money necessary to solve this transfer station issue.
  2. ditto for fire station
  3. ditto for sidewalks (plus eminent domain)
  4. Good question. Very tough, I don't know!
  5. Not sure - somebody please start a place that caters to locals (or buy the inn and make it friendly like it ought to be!)

4 - 27

Work together on all levels.

4 - 28

One way is to search for what best practices have been tried by other similar communities. These are complex, tension-filled considerations that may communities have and are struggling with. I appreciate the work that the planning board is undertaking to poll residents.

Public transportation-limit starter castles-proper zoning so we keep our natural areas and wildlife protection; use of smart growth so we limit our impact; involve the public in the planning; more community events where people get to know each other

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

4 - 32

The only negative aspect is the absence of taxi service and public transportation to Hanover. If these services were supplied, it would be perfect for a senior citizen living on Route 10. No complaints and lots of gratitude!

4 - 33

Growth should be carefully managed-space is finite, and development will need to be restricted at some point, so I would argue that it should start now. Clustering of new development to preserve open land/farms, and linking any development to the provision of some more affordable housing would allow for responsible growth while trying to preserve the things that make Lyme special and unique. Commercial development should be carefully scrutinized and limited--America is filled with West Lebanon's, there is no reason to bring that part of American "culture" here.

4 - 34

Town officers should oversee more fully finances of town's fund.

4 - 35

People should treat volunteers with more respect.

4 - 36

Have a super knowledgeable, wise planning board, especially and school board and select persons. Try to have taxes within means of low/moderate income people. I have to go into savings to pay my taxes.

Don't forget that Lyme is its own town. Do not let it become any more of a "bedroom for Hanover" than it already is--bigger is NOT better.

4 - 42

We shouldn't be afraid of developing or more population. We could do it slowly and carefully.

4 - 44

Be sure the Master Plan is proactive.

4 - 45

Use zoning to encourage balanced development. New homes for families vs. cost of roads, garbage, schools, i.e. how much we can afford given Lyme's distaste for taxation--even sensible taxation. Use zoning to discourage tract housing, but have new areas of mixed smaller and larger plots. If this is not attractive to big developers and spenders, so much the betters.

Lyme residents need to realize controlled development and adequate services require a higher level of taxation than now seems acceptable. Volunteers are less and less able and willing to take up the slack.

Lower taxes - cut services to school - protest to Feds about "no funding" business. We in towns should "no fund" the system here. We're smart - get the folks with kids in system to work this out. ---

4 - 53

We need to let more people in. The zoning serves a good purpose: it allows us as a town to set the rules and pace of expansion. However, the zoning is so restrictive that almost no new people, no new blood can come in. The zoning needs to be loosened up. There are two extremes that Lyme may become depending on zoning: 1. if the zoning is too strict, Lyme will become a retirement community for the wealthy; 2. if the zoning is too lax, there will be chaos and uncontrolled expansion.

Right now, I fear Lyme is headed to 1. above. We need to find a middle ground. For example, a few houses in the Hillside District is OK. We should develop a formula like the agricultural soils percentage formula, which allows for limited development in the Hillside District. As another example, more growth could occur in East Lyme. Loosen the Subdivision rules to allow some to move in. This would be a good compromise.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

4 - 65

I would like to see more cafes/restaurants/community gathering places, particularly as Nichols is no longer in town, I would hate to see the planning board discourage any proposal that would allow people to gather in town. Though sense of community is strong, that is a key part of Lyme's appeal and should be supported in planning decisions.

One major improvement would be the addition of sidewalks or trails connecting homes, schools, shops, recreation. This would enhance community, encourage people to walk and bike locally, and increase traffic/pedestrian safety.

4 - 70

I don't know of anything different from what Lyme has been doing--talking giving the community a chance to voice their opinions and vote. I do think clustered housing near Lyme would be desirable--where there is some level ground--so town amenities and school and public transportation would be easily accessible. Last but not least , I'd like to see Nichol's Store become the "town hall."

4 - 71

Not a clue.

4 - 73

Wind turbines! Solar energy! Co-op housing, local food, local farms. An eco-bus that runs up and down Route 10.

4 - 74

Channel growth into the two town centers by expanding the two high density zoning districts.

4 - 75

Move forward now.

4 - 77

The zoning ordinance must be changed to allow for and encourage housing that more people can afford. We must also designate a commercial zone that can't be conserved by special interests. It is totally irresponsible to eliminate appropriate commercial land just as it is irresponsible to pave over the finest farm land.

4 - 79

Spend money on infrastructure, make it easy for commercial development, affordable housing for young families, go after businesses, market the town, otherwise the town will die....

4 - 81

continue planning process; update zoning laws

Be more careful about how they want the town to end up. Big is not always better. I don't want Lyme to be another Hanover; we must stop all this stuff that only allows the rich people to live here. When I can't afford a 1-bedroom or small 2-bedroom home in Lyme, that is sad to me. We need to stop the growth of the town and get what we have under control. Do we want a town with only million dollar people. If you answer "yes" you already have done it.

Hard issue to address! It's hard to allow growth while trying to stay small? Just high end only housing will drive local working families out. Which in turn will lose the heart of the community and in turn what makes Lyme what it is.

The Town of Lyme is driving the natives of Lyme out with the taxes and little things like the dump that used to be included in your taxes and now you pay. I got a dumpster that removes trash from four residences and still costs half the price. And child care is outrageous in the Town of Lyme. My children go to Hanover for half the price with the same care as Lyme.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

4 - 100

Make sure town government does what it can to endorse the sense of community, inclusiveness, history, and respect for traditions: we already do some things, including, but not limited to, inclusion of history in the town report, the civil way town meeting and other meetings are conducted, the mix of volunteers for counting ballots and the socializing associated therewith, the acknowledgment of the faithful service of public servants, and the support of community functions (e.g. Memorial Day, Fourth of July, etc.)

Ensure that planning, including land use ordinances, permit affordable housing (i.e. apartments, condominiums, houses on small lots) for persons of all incomes and senior housing (i.e. condominiums, group homes, assisted living, and nursing homes).

Recycling bins should be open (as they are in many places in France and Spain) for use at all times.

4 - 104

Have open-minded people on the Planning Board.

4 - 105

Lyme should maintain strict zoning regulations to control growth and protect the rural character and small town aspect of Lyme. However, efforts should be made to assist low and moderate income people find housing. Also effort should be made to encourage farming.

4 - 107

The town should actively discourage more development. Once built and developed, it cannot be undone.

4 - 108

4 - 110

Make it easier for developers to build affordable/cluster housing for young families in the $125k - $150k price range. Solicit bus companies to provide bus service to Hanover area.

4 - 112

Clever zoning will help! Conserving critical pieces of land. C.2.[above] is very difficult, and I have no good ideas to address it without the town vulnerable to rampant development, which could make it inaccessible and much less desirable to many of us who live here now.

4 - 113

Citizens of this town (and all towns of NH) need to support a broad-based tax (like a state income tax) that would greatly reduce the amount of tax presently generated by property tax.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

First, maintain and enforce a strong zoning ordinance. Then, in order to accommodate controlled growth, modify it gradually to allow development in the large unpopulated areas of town--but don't let lot sizes get smaller than one acre.

A comment on "affordable housing"--affordable is in the eye of the beholder. Lyme is peanuts for a billionaire, cheap for a multimillionaire, OK for your average professional, a stretch for your average hourly worker, out of reach for someone unemployed or on welfare. For towns like Lyme that are widely regarded as desirable places to live, real estate will always be expensive--there is nothing we can do to change that. Nothing, that is, unless we want to change it into a town that is widely regarded as an undesirable place to live....

Free bus service for elderly, others pay as needed. Senior Center with activities and meals each day. Also a place where crafts could be done and put on display.

4 - 134

Continue to allow building at a restrained pace on large lots (with sufficient road frontage) and also perhaps support some development of single family homes on smaller lots near the town center. Some limited amount of higher density development might be attractive to long time residents who want to down size in their retirement, singles, and families who love the out of doors but don't desire a large property or can't afford one.

I also support Lyme's continued investment in its public school and high school offerings. A number of other towns in the Upper Valley appear to either have too much growth in school enrollment or declining enrollment, and either of these situations is undesirable. I hope Lyme continues to be attractive to families without becoming a boom town and losing the many things that make it special.

Avoid random or widespread development, concentrate on present "village" areas and prospects with cluster zoning included.

Which is the challenge. People made this town long ago when they settled and worked and they were not on the higher economic ladder. Now only wealthy families can settle here--so there must be a balance created anew to bring in new people, but not get too crowded. To make some affordable housing without development!! How?? I don't know.

Adhere to the present zoning. Don't tamper with the zoning. It was meant to keep Lyme as a small town and any diminution of it is likely to promote urban sprawl.

Perhaps converting larger properties into condo/co-op units is one possibility, as is a limited number of higher density housing clusters with residents of mixed incomes.

4 - 151

Protect more land from development. Carefully regulate development to minimize impacts to the natural environment and existing villages. Keep dirt roads. Continue to rely on volunteers for programs--FAST, fire, recreation teams. This keeps residents involved and contributing to the town.

4 - 160

We need more respect for landowners and their rights to improve their property without having to get every little thing approved by a committee.

4 - 164

Lyme should look at the new wi-fi systems (Sprint has a new one), rather than laying cable. You should consider mixed use development so that you can have more intense development in certain areas that carries with it community green space, playing fields, trails, etc. It should include light retail and restaurants. The notion is to create other mini-village greens so that new developments have a sense of focus and community. And you should identify some areas that would be attractive for new high tech businesses. Again, connectivity is extremely important. Energy costs will remain high and go higher so folks will seek out beautiful places like Lyme and work from home--provided they have high-speed internet access.

What we should not do is set aside land for low-income housing (e.g. trailer park), as this will tend to create ghettos. I believe that modifications should be made to our zoning laws that make it easier for landowners to split out small parcels, especially for family members--in a way that does not provide a loophole for developers.

4 - 174

Enforce speed limit-traffic will increase-need to manage it trying to "stop" increase is silly - keep dirt roads - do not, do not allow new thru-passages - connecting north to south for easy commute ensure barriers (stop signs, unpaved dead ends) to high speed commuters force traffic to go slow? Traffic speed controls the ambiance life style of Lyme.

4 - 192

The Town needs to develop a master plan that insures that the highly desirable characteristics of Lyme are well protected in the face of growth. I am not a town planner, but it seems to me that one measure that could increase the tax base necessary to support growth would be the introduction on a carefully controlled and measured basis of light, clean industry. Such a business or businesses would have to be placed in settings that can be naturally screened so as to not visually impact the physical appearance of the Town. I think that new private home plot size should be at a five acre minimum. There are, I am sure, other methods of expanding the tax base without dramatically increasing the Town's population.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

4 - 193

Municipal Services: First and foremost, spend money carefully, but spend as necessary to get new facilities built responsively and well. The serious problems with the new town garage could have easily been avoided with a better roof design, proper building insulation, a better-designed heating system and lighting that was more responsive to actual needs of the users of the building. All of the corners that were cut to save money on design and project supervision will end up costing all of us a great deal of money over the years to come.

Do whatever is necessary to relocate the town offices into the Nichols Hardware building. There are no unsolvable problems associated with this from an architectural standpoint and everyone in town is already familiar with the traffic pattern so its failings are not a serious issue. Integrate the police station into the Nichol's building. Use the basement: create a good meeting room there and put a fireproof vault in the basement and go ahead and install an elevation and have done with the issue.

Find a location for the transfer station. It could, for example, easily be placed on the Tuckaway Timber lot and the building could be used as a decent fire station. regarding the utility of the present building, the energy costs associated with the current fire station could pay for a significant amount of a new building in a very few years.

Housing: Use zoning regulations in a creative way to encourage cluster housing in some areas of town.

Structure the regulations to ensure that such housing is designed for medium and lower income families.

Cluster housing, if done properly, encourages development of a neighborhood. Also, there is nothing wrong with condominium-type structures and cluster-based septic systems if they are done properly. Cluster/condo housing also puts less of a load on town services and utilities.

Business development: Lyme is an ideal place for small technical businesses and for retail business to serve community needs. Lyme is unlikely to attract any manufacturing businesses because of its distance from other commercial suppliers. The nearest service hubs are in Lebanon/White River and in Bradford, and manufacturing is likely to find these areas more attractive. The fate of Nichols Hardware sends a clear message about most retail businesses in places like Lyme: they cannot survive completion from places like Home Depot or Foggs, especially if their customers work and do other shopping near such stores.

designate areas for growth new and when as reach full potential, that's it.

4 - 203

Encourage an affordable range of housing costs in any new development. Allow some smaller lots sizes in cluster development, but keep them off the main roads.

4 - 205

The big challenge with all this is how do you preserve certain land and still reimburse the people who want to sell it, for the fair market value. We complain about Lyme becoming populated by all very wealthy people, but it is usually only those people who can afford to donate land for conservation easements. I see no easy solution: to keep open space it takes people with money and then less well off people get squeezed out. It is hard to have the "haves" and the "have nots" living side by side. I guess the main thing to avoid is a house on every two acres, so non-wealthy people will have to accept living in clusters. This could be new villages in appropriate places, or apartments and condominiums. I think the real key to saving Lyme for our grandchildren and great-grandchildren is allowing an increase in population, but at the same time keeping a lot of non-developed land. To do this it will take either individuals donating conservation easements or somehow coming up with the money to buy development rights. I would even be willing to pay a little more in property taxes if that extra money was used to buy development rights or buy land and put conservation easements on it. That might be a hard sell at town meeting, but I can guaranty people would thank us in 50 years.

Limit the number of $1 million (and up) homes

4 - 207

Lyme needs to look carefully at its priorities and its pocketbook. It doesn't make much sense to encourage rental housing, for example, since this doesn't contribute to the tax coffers. At the same time we shouldn't encourage the expansion of recreation facilities, trails, etc. if, with limited tax dollars, we need to improve the town's infrastructure. The town should also consider the example of the improved transfer station as a model for other proposed projects. The benefits of only a modest outlay, together with some reasonable regulations, has yielded positive results in both recycling and the bottom line. We should apply the lessons of this work to future needs, and adapt our desire to grow with sensible, careful planning.

Limit growth and preserve the open spaces. Town has to engage in thoughtful comprehensive planning; with growth comes increased demands for services/tax base. Cluster/village developed only allowed with significant set asides for permanent conservation land.

4 - 211

Hold an election.

4 - 212

I would strongly favor some sort of "grandfathering" to allow some division of old family holdings in order to provide property for a child, etc. This, to me, would be preferable to altering Lyme's careful zoning.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

4 - 239

maintain and enforce zoning rules

---

4 - 244

aggressively work to establish it

Encourage use of the river by non-powered boats.

Get Advanced Transit to come through town--run to Hanover HS and Thetford Academy

4 - 248

To this end, high quality internet access is essential. It lets professional people work from home so that it does not turn Lyme into a bedroom community. It increases the opportunities for small business start-ups in town and makes the town competitive with more urban locations. Lacking useful broadband immediately limits the range of desirable businesses that might locate in Lyme.

The town should have a brave and actual role in encouraging conversation about the regressive property tax in NH. As long as we rely on the property tax, the elderly will have to sell land and/or move out. Any agricultural based businesses will be at an unfair disadvantage and young people won't be able to move in. The property tax is BAD for the town and the State and people should be more open in discussing it. It is no longer just a political issue. It really hurts people who aren't rich. How about issuing a challenge to other area towns for voter turn-out? Get the numbers up. Have some sort of annual "my road" event. A parade with floats perhaps. Neighbors would get to know each other and kids would get to know adults and vice versa; prizes for most household participation. Don't do it on Old Home Day because people are out of town--maybe a harvest festival. And USE THE TOWN GREEN (and have people park away from the edge of green when at an event)

Meeting Etiquette: Person in charge should remind people to speak up, repeat questions, ask if people can hear, etc. Use a mic. if possible. At town meeting all committee members should wear name tags and committee name; it is a friendly thing to do.

Town support of anything that brings town adults and town kids together.

Cheers to this committee!

It just may be too late. We sure seem to be moving in that direction now. I already know that I can't afford to stay in Lyme my whole life.

4 - 273

Do not encourage/allow community water or sewer systems. Subsidize or otherwise encourage remaining farms such as Bailey, Tullar and Record to stay in business. Provide subsidy to owners of cattle, sheep, and goats who work at keeping up the open space and maintaining our "view scape."

4 - 275

keep conserving land, plan growth wisely. Engage the community.

4 - 276

Talk, meet, wrangle, keep an open mind.

4 - 282

I think that structured development, combining a goal of broader financial spectrum of citizens with the careful planning of commercial;/residential pockets (clusters) needs to be aggressively pursued. These goals won't be achieved by a couple of isolated Habitat for Humanity initiatives. This will cause some loss of rural/ridgeline/scenic quality--somewhere. Hopefully, these impacts can be minimized with the net effect of having less impact than the present trend of dispersed services and increased activity on roads.

I do not have a detailed knowledge of "service" topology, but perhaps a map showing business, potential cluster pockets, with conservation overlays could serve as a starting point for prioritizing such locations. A review and substantial revision of the zoning ordinance would probably be required--because in its present form, it hasn't provided the tools to implement some of the early plans when the original zoning districts were established.

I am not exactly sure. We need taxes to run our town and State government. We need taxes to be raised to maintain and improve the amenities of our town, but every year at town meeting the budget gets higher and many new tasks requiring tax monies begin. I want to encourage growth in Lyme to a "reasonable" degree to help broaden the tax base and hopefully ease some of the burden on each household. But I don't know how successful this idea would ultimately be. I appreciate all of those people within the Lyme community who work so hard to keep our town running so well. Keep up the good work and I trust that you'll do your best.

I know it is really hard work to promote limited, responsible growth, and I would urge the Town to move slowly and carefully, study other places where it's been done well and learn from where it's been done poorly. Lyme is such a special place--it's worth all the effort to do this right.

Be reasonable with zoning laws. Advise people who are tax poor of their options. Make sure these organizations are up front with everything they do and say about landowners options.

4 - 288

What I would most love to see is Nichol's Hardware made into some sort of community center. A place that would bring the different generations of the town together more. A place where the elderly who live on the green could walk over, get breakfast, sit and relax. The space is large and could be partitioned off into different areas. I have seen large old homes put to commercial use with a café/bakery in one section, tables, chairs, game tables, sofas set out as an extension of this-like a "coffee house" atmosphere-where folks could hang, meet, read the paper etc. Children could feel welcome: safe to be-play board games, etc.

There could be one area or a commercial vendor for inexpensive used books, another sort of a permanent "bargain barn" and still room left over in that space to make a dance/yoga studio. I realize it is a huge space. Perhaps it could be deemed a non-profit venture-falling under the auspices of the Lyme Foundation. Anyway - some sort of multi-use area that would encourage the town to come together more, and the different generations to interact more.

And while I don't really see the need for new housing (I think the problem is the real estate prices in general), I do feel strongly that some provision should be made for "old timers" say people living in town for a minimum of 25 years - to partition off their land for their children-as in the case of Alfred Balch and family. It seems these folks are often rich in the "land" they own - and I do not feel it is right that their children would have to move out of town to find an affordable home. If they have land and want to give a parcel to their children (say a minimum of 2 acres), they should be able to. It doesn't mean the whole town will start doing it! I appreciate living in a town that at least takes all these ideas into account. Good work Lyme!

I think we need to remember that it's the working man or woman that are the heart of this town. We shouldn't have to worry our taxes are going to run us out of town. After all, we are the ones all the higher income people hire to do all the work that keep this town alive. A carpenter shouldn't have to build houses in Lyme and then drive home to Canaan, or wherever because he can longer afford to live in his own town. I'd hate to think that in 10-20 years there's no one left in Lyme whose actually from Lyme. Let's figure out a way to help the low-moderate income people stay and raise their families in the town they grew up in. We do not want to become a bedroom community to Hanover. Lyme is unique. Let's keep it that way.

Commit to strict zoning laws; look to Vermont's success in preserving the aesthetic of rural New England.

4 - 312

keep zoning restrictions; continue supporting conservation efforts

4 - 314

Development should be governed by the community; not developers. We need strong controls on growth. I would like to see as much space as possible left open for wildlife habitat and human recreation --hunting, skiing, snowmobiling, hiking, and walking. I think we should plan to provide some multi-family housing which would be appropriate for seniors, singles, and young families located in or near the villages.

4 - 315

Make zoning less restrictive - see answer to #7 [higher density housing along Route 10]

4 - 317

Not allow building as less than 10 acres except in a limited number of approved developments.

4 - 325

Take great care in considering planning or zoning changes - we don't have the infrastructure to support major growth, but we can make it easier for moderate income folks to buy and build by considering exceptions to road frontage and some lot size issues. Let's not invite large-scale development, but instead think [?] at small progress and flexibility that suits a small population and limited infrastructure.

Be reasonable, yet restrictive in a manner which is not exclusive or detrimental to current beauty and quality of life here. (Pollution as well.) Difficult issue we need a town-wide discussion. Someone e-mailed about an organization which leads such gatherings. Maybe allow tax incentives for residents who wish to leave their property to their own families.

Unless deliberate efforts and changes are made to our zoning, Lyme will become more and more exclusive. Within 10 years, school enrollment will drop markedly for the simple reason that working families cannot afford to live in Lyme. The reason they cannot: our exclusive zoning. Middle class folks cannot afford a house in Lyme, never mind lower income families. That is not right.

The fact that more people lived in this town almost two hundred years ago is very telling of the unnecessary restrictiveness of our zoning. When we do our next survey in 10 years, without real change to our zoning, the town will be even more exclusive. Without change, there will be absolutely no affordable housing units added and working class families will not be able to afford to live in Lyme.

Lyme is a very beautiful town. The challenge is to find a way to balance allowing affordable housing while preserving the town's natural beauty. Under our current zoning, that will never happen.

4 - 329

listening to its inhabitants

---

4 - 330

A residential community formerly a good demographic mix--but planning and zoning have made it "exclusive" by putting policies into place that have forced many from the town. Regulations were put in place to benefit the wealthy keeping old families from keeping a home in the community. The writers of the original zoning, feathered their nests at the expense of those that just didn't understand what was being done to them. Many people on these committees have agendas more personal than good for the town. They might be good people until their agendas, "what they think best" is challenged. Then how righteous they become. The word "exception" should not become a dirty word. Every situation should not be a "one rule fits all." There should be ways to meet people's needs. The town is so variable, people's needs should be met with variability and tolerance in mind. Black and white, no gray, creates ill will.

Lyme should allow development of "green" communities clustered housing that allows/requires large open areas. Such developments should mimic/tag on to current village areas. Development should encourage moderate/low-income options. Such developments can help retain small, community orientation and keep a variety of housing options available. I don't know how to keep Lyme affordable. A large part depends on taxes, but Lyme can't ignore its responsibility to ? and care for its residents and maintain its infrastructure in order to cut taxes. I wish I had the answer.

Evaluation fairness of property tax. Why should someone with less than one acre pay more than neighbor who has >10 but in current use. Is such a piece of property assessed as one parcel or shouldn't the lot with house be taxed similar to neighbor's property and the current use acreage taxed by different rate?

Would like to see bike path on side of road to Post Pond and Thetford Road. Unsafe conditions for the many bikers we see on the road.

4 - 348

We don't need any more land conservation. We do need to attract more young families and provide things for teenagers to do. Affordable housing also.

4 - 349

The town needs to aggressively examine options that allow for measured development, and by extension, a broader tax base. For commercial development this is not only a matter of zoning but infrastructure. We are not going to attract a range of business interests if the town does not have 21st century communication options like broadband and wireless. For residential development the town needs to look at creative housing solutions that will provide a range of affordable opportunities while at the same time preserving open space.

Communities all across the northeast are wrestling with similar problems. What can be learned from their experience? Hopefully, the community attitude survey will prove a catalyst for getting this important discussion started.

4 - 350

Perhaps to allow a limited amount of new commercial development of small businesses to help contribute to the tax burden. Businesses do not add to the "growth" in population or children that increase school taxes, but help subsidize taxes. I realize the tax situation in Lyme is not unique, however, I believe we should not "encourage" new public buildings which will realistically drive some people to have to leave. In some ways, I feel the current zoning laws are extremely restrictive--one of the strictest in the state of New Hampshire. I would like to see some limited easement in the restrictions in some areas, while still maintaining sensible zoning to prevent over-development.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

Control town and school spending, but don't do so with major changes to level of service. Enact some more reasonable zoning. Lyme's ordinances are too restrictive and every year they just become more so. Model our zoning regs after Hanover's, rather than making them more restrictive in every way.

In as many ways as possible, continue to solicit the participation of Lyme's citizens. The survey is a good start. It might be useful to have a series of "study circles" to address those areas where there is the widest divergence of opinion. The Lyme listserv is terrific; however, the number of those on it is too small to be considered representative of the town. Participating in a Lyme Community Profile, through Vital Communities, could draw forth those areas of greatest interest and concern, with community-generated solutions.

Truthfully there is not much you can do... older residents have to realize that people will move here because it is convenient and new residents have to know that this is a town with some history and change will come slow. To me the key is communication..... Town meetings, "working Suppers" (where different issues are worked out over a meal), or even just inviting people to walk through the school and talk to parents and kids. These are the things that will keep Lyme alive.

10 - 14

Keep property taxes under control. Develop affordable housing and do not cave into demands of newcomers for restrictive zoning and every possible city-type service.

---

10 - 16

Sanction a fine of $100 per truck occurrence when sound ordinance is broken- great potential revenue for town.

10 - 18

We have too much zoning in Lyme the Zoning board should be broken up. We shouldn't have one or have one that natives are on- not people who move here for a few years to send their children to a high school of their choice. The people on this board already have what they want but do not want anyone else to have it.

10 - 19

Try to stay right sized. I think a well selected track for a limited amount of low income people is fine if it's well thought out and not overdone.

10 - 20

? Tax payers are paying 2 times to get rid of trash- in our taxes plus the bags. If you have bigger items you pay an arm and a leg to discard them. Cheaper to rent a dumpster. Plus open only one day a week. Taxes are getting harder for people to stay in their homes (the new evaluations are ridiculous). Everyone that works has to pay for a portion of their health insurance but if you work for the town or school the taxpayers have to pay not the workers.

Q26d: What should the Town do to address this challenge?

10 - 21

Prevent town highway department from wasteful spending to keep taxes more affordable. Highway crews waste taxpayers money plowing base roads and sanding all dirt roads when unnecessary. Stocking piling sand year round, wearing out town trucks and wasting fuel. Most town work could be contracted out to bids to save the town hundreds of thousands of $$ in taxes . Down size the highway work force and town trucks.

apply strict and watchful laws, encourage land trusts while allowing some local business to keep the town prosperous.

---

10 - 30

Implement policies in favor of affordable housing and work to ease current zoning restrictions. As for facilities, the sooner the better, as costs always rise.

14 - 45

In terms of specific suggestions, I don't think we need to encourage new housing, roads and subdivisions to accommodate persons employed in Lyme (how many people actually work here?) Ideally, new housing in the Upper Valley should be closer to the places of work, i.e., Hanover, Lebanon. A practical revision of the zoning ordinance might be to loosen restrictions on adding rental units to existing housing. This would allow extended families to stay in Lyme, and would also address affordable housing needs. It would also potentially benefit empty nesters and the elderly.
